REPEATS STORY OF A "JOY RIDE"

Joseph Interreiden of Cincinnati, Here to Spy on Wife, Becomes Witness in Divorce Case

TESTIFIES IN THE MAY SUIT

Carney Case is Held Open Until Tuesday so One Other Witness May Add Testimony

The story of a suddenly interrupted "joy ride" of two Rushville women in a taxi with two men—other than their husbands—came out in the divorce trial today of the case of Hazel M. May against Walter May. The joy-ride episode was told by Joseph Interreiden of Cincinnati and according to his testimony, one of the women was his wife and the other was Mrs. May.

The Carney divorce case was pushed into the background in point of interest when Interreiden took the stand during a lull in the Carney case and proceeded to tell all he knew about the relations between Mrs. May, the plaintiff in the action, and his own wife with other men. The case was reopened again this afternoon and this time the court room was crowded with a throng expecting to hear something of the sensational. The crowd was not greatly disappointed.

Some of the evidence in the May divorce suit had been introduced but as the court was not satisfied additional evidence was brought to his attention. Interreiden made a good witness for May. He stated that he came here from Cincinnati to find his wife and after looking things over decided they were not as they should be. Night before last he discovered Mrs. May and his wife, Mrs. Interreiden getting into a taxi-cab. Interreiden, according to his testimony, jumped on the running board of the machine and readily recognized the occupants of the car.

By threats he compelled the driver of the car to drive to the jail with intentions of having the entire bunch looked up for the night, but he stated that the sheriff would not take the four because he had no charge against them.

Further evidence disclosed that another Rushville man has suddenly left the city because he found that his name was going to be connected with the divorce suit. Interreiden stated that he had seen this man come and go frequently from the home of Mrs. May. Interreiden's wife faced him at the hearing but this did not stop him and he told his story in a loud, clear voice, adding emphasis where it best suited the story. He admitted on cross-examination that he came here to spy on his own wife and ran across this testimony bearing on the May case. The case had not been completed at a late hour this afternoon.

The Carney case was completed this afternoon at two o'clock with the exception of one witness. The case will be held open until next Tuesday in order that this witness may testify. The witness is ill and could not be in court. Mr. Carney was again the main witness today. He was on the stand most of the day, making in all about two days that he was on the stand. His financial matters were again gone into and attorneys testified as to amount of fees the lawyers should be entitled to have.

LAST SERVICE A FITTING CLIMAX

Total Decisions for Christ Brought up to 28 as Dr. D. D. Dodds Concludes Work Here

IS PRESENTED WITH A CHECK

Dr. J. A. McCuaig Prescribes Course for Church, in Sermon at St. Paul's M. E. Last Night

The closing sermon of Dr. D. D. Dodds at the United Presbyterian church last night served as a fitting climax to the protracted meetings which have been in progress for two weeks. Parents, young men and women and boys and girls crowding forward in the aisles to confess Christ furnished an inspiring sight that those who were present say they will not soon forget. Last night's additions brought the total number of decisions for Christ during the meeting up to twenty-eight. Dr. Dodds last night from the pulpit thanked the newspapers for support given the meeting.

Dr. Dodds left today for Xenia, Ohio, where he is the pastor of the First United Presbyterian church. Deep appreciation of his work here was expressed today by members of the U. P. congregation and others who have attended and aided in the revival. As a slight token of their appreciation, the congregation last night presented him with a check. The pastor, the Rev. J. T. Aiken, will preach a special evangelistic message Sunday night and the white-robed choir will sing again.

Dr. J. A. McCuaig of New York City, who is here to hold a series of meetings Sunday in the interests of the World League for Peace, preached at the St. Paul's M. E. church last evening in connection with the revival services, bringing out the weaknesses of the churches here in Indiana and prescribing the cures for them. "A physician, when seeking to find the illness of a man first feels his pulse and ascertains the strength of the man. So shall I look first for the things in your church that should be strong," he began. Dr. McCuaig simply held the audience spellbound by his sincerity, his deep spirituality, and his very appealing voice.

The needs of the church he divided into three classes. "You show lack of enthusiasm for the Christ. True enough, you are enthusiastic about your church, about different departments, but you should be enthusiastic about Christ himself. Do not put all of your enthusiasm into the organization. Again, the church today has come to be more of a messenger of Christ than it is an ambassador. There is a difference in these words," as he illustrated by a story of the small boy who was a messenger and did merely what he was told while the boy who was an ambassador overcame the difficulties that came up in his way and saw that his commission was performed. "The church today is merely a messenger. It compromises to wealth, to education, to anything, when it should stand firmly by the teachings of Christ."

"And most important the members of our churches have forgotten the importance and the responsibility of saving souls." The speaker drew several vivid pictures of sinners dying without the Christ and by them, emphasized the grave importance of saving souls. The three remedies he prescribed were simple ones:

"In this busy life of today, you give all your time to business, to your social life, to the more trivial things of life and neglect that one all important thing. Your lives will be transformed if you give more time to quiet meditation with God."

"He then brought out how a Christian should talk with God, should walk with him and lastly

DEPLORE FAKE STOCK SCHEMES

Boosters Back of Factory Project Relate That "Get-Rich-Quick" Projects Still Pay Here

MONEY BETTER BE USED HERE

They Point to Worth of New Industry Right Now and May Have Something to Announce Soon

Those who have been boosting the project to locate a factory in Rushville may have something definite to announce soon, but in the meantime they have noted that "fake" mining schemes and other worthless projects can still be made to pay in Rushville when the money that is invested in "get-rich-quick" contrivances might better be used for the betterment of Rushville. In that way, it is argued, local capital could be used to the advantage not only of the individual investor but to the community as well, whereas most money put in oil and mining stock and similar things is a dead loss.

One man commented on the fact that only lately a promoter came here and was not only able to sell stock which may or may not be of no value but also induced a leading citizen to accompany him on his visitations, introduce him and lend said citizen's influence to the "cause."

The men back of the plan to invest money in a building suited to the needs of a factory, if one can be found which will locate here, purely as an investment, deplore this sort of thing because the investment of good money in foreign undertakings of uncertain termination injures the cause for which they stand.

Enough money has been pledged to build a structure which will meet the demands of an ordinary factory and the only thing now is to find the right factory. Correspondence has been carried on with several firms, but nothing definite has resulted yet. However, those back of the plan may have something of a tangible nature to work on within a week or so.

The railroads have been co-operating with the boosters most willingly and have placed several good prospects in the way of the Rushville men who are working solely for the good of Rushville and are thus indirectly aiding in something which will make their investment here better if it is successful.

WITHDRAWAL IS INDICATED

Signs of Expedition Leaving Mexico But Funston Denies It

(By United Press.)

El Paso, Jan. 20.—Although official announcement is lacking, there is every indication today that withdrawal of General Pershing's punitive expedition from Mexico had virtually begun. Reports today stated that the American camp at El Valle, Pershing's southernmost outpost was broken yesterday, the troops there yesterday starting northward to join the main camp.

"NOTHING TO IT"—FUNSTON

San Antonio, Texas, Jan. 20.—"Absolutely nothing to it," said General Funston this afternoon when asked if reports that Pershing's expedition was on its way out of Mexico were true.

THREE MEXICANS INDICTED

San Antonio, Texas, Jan. 20.—Three Mexicans were today indicted by the federal grand jury on charges of exporting 10,000 rounds of cartridges into Mexico November 10, 1916. They were arrested and gave bond to appear in court Monday.

Roy Thompson returned to his home in Newcastle today after visiting friends here.

PIGMY U-BOATS ARE CARRIED BY RAIDER

Captain of Captured Steamer Says Small Submarines Were Abroad German Sea Scourge

OPERATE IN SMALL RADIIUS

By CHARLES P. STEWART (U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

(Copyright 1917 by United Press)

Buenos Aires, Jan. 20.—Pigmy submarines—eighteen feet in length—are carried by the German raider which has wrought such damage to allied shipping in Atlantic waters.

The captain of the captured steamer Netherby Hall was authority for this statement today.

"Three submarines are carried by the raider," he said. "They are capable of operation over a small radius and are equipped with torpedoes, dynamite and ammunition."

Such additional details as this indicating the typical German thoroughness with which the raider was prepared and equipped led shipping circles to predict a long chase by allied warships before the sea scourge is cornered.

FIRST REPORTS OF SIGHTING RAIDER

Brazilian Packet Bahia Says She Sighted Strange Vessel Off Northern Coast of Brazil

ALLIED SHIPS CONCENTRATE

Rio De Janeiro, Jan. 20.—First reports indicating the general location of the German South Atlantic raider was received here today. The Brazilian packet steamer Bahia reported she had sighted a vessel believed to be the raider off the northern coast of Brazil Thursday. The stranger was traveling north.

Practically all South American nations are taking steps strictly to guard the neutrality of their waters. The Uruguyan government sent a steamer today to patrol its coast line. The Brazilian government had already dispatched several of its war vessels to back up its enforcement of its neutrality.

Meanwhile dispatches up and down the South American coast indicated a concentration of allied warships had sped north searching for the sea terror. Pernambuco reported arrival of two British auxiliary cruisers.

COMPLICATIONS LOOM UP AHEAD

More Danger of Trouble With Germany as Outgrowth of Raider's Activity Than in Months

NEUTRALS HELD PRISONERS

(By United Press.)

Washington, Jan. 20.—Danger of complications with Germany over marine problems seems to authorities today to be nearer than for months past.

Her capture of neutrals and making them prisoners on the steamer Yarrowdale plus the strong trend of German sentiment toward wider submarine made these possibilities more ominous.

The official German statement recounting that the missing Yarrowdale with more than 450 souls aboard had been "brought into harbor" as a prize—with a number of neutral prisoners, gave rise to a graver concern than anything that has happened in months.

DR. M'CUAIG TO SPEND BUSY DAY

Celebrated Preacher of Social and Civic Righteousness Will Speak Five Times Sunday

A MASS MEETING AT NINE P. M.

Addresses in All Churches Will be Introductory to Course of Lectures Here Next Week

Dr. J. Aspinall McCuaig of New York, the celebrated preacher of social and civic righteousness, will spend a busy day in Rushville Sunday, delivering no less than five different addresses in the interest of social betterment in as many different churches. His first meeting will start at 10:30 in the morning and the last one at 9 at night.

These Sunday addresses will be but introductory to a course of lectures to be delivered by Dr. McCuaig each afternoon and evening of next week. The afternoon lectures, which will take place at three o'clock, will be for women only; and the night addresses at 7:30 for both men and women. The first of these week meetings will be held in St. Paul's M. E. church, with the expectation of transferring them to the Main Street Christian church as soon as the auditorium of the Methodist is overtaxed by the attendance.

As educational head of a great national reform association, university lecture an eugenics and popular teacher of right living, Dr. McCuaig enjoys an international reputation and it is stated that Rushville was fortunate in having him here for a week.

At 10:30 a. m. Sunday he will occupy the pulpit at the Main Street Christian church and will speak on "God's Need of Men." At 2 p. m. in the First Baptist church he will address a mass meeting of men on the theme, "What Education Does a Man Need for Marriage?" Immediately following there will be a women's meeting at three o'clock at which he will speak on the subject, "How Girls Fall." At 7 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church he will preach on the topic, "The Pride of Man." The crowning event of the day will come at 9 p. m. when Dr. McCuaig will address a mass meeting of all the churches of the city on the subject, "A Million Dollar Secret."

Of the vastness of his ministry, Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, of Brooklyn, says: "Dr. McCuaig has the greatest message of the 20th century."

Of the great work accomplished by him in the east a recent magazine article says:

"A most remarkable man has sprung up in the land. He is heralded by many as a prophet, and wherever he goes people flock to him."

"From every town he visits the stories of his influence come."

"He builds no tabernacle, but no building can hold the people when once his grip is upon the community."

"Extravagant things have been said of this strange teacher and preacher, and many curious persons have been drawn to his ministry by the published statements of his marvelous influence; but the strangest thing of all is that those who are so drawn go forth to declare that 'the half has not been told.'"

Like a whirlwind of righteousness, Dr. McCuaig has swept West Virginia and western Pennsylvania during the last eight months.

Presiding over one of his great meetings in Charleston, Governor Hatfield said recently: "The state of West Virginia will ever be grateful for the burning utterances of Dr. McCuaig, and the strong educational foundations he has laid. He speaks with all the passion of the preacher on fire with the evils that have overtaken men; but with the balancing

The Russian advances were made in spite of snow storms, very cold weather and marsh lands.

BLACKS BEAT REDS

The Blacks beat the Reds, 6 to 2, in the curtain raiser to the Rushville-Shelbyville high school basketball game last night. The teams were composed of high school girls.

Lights of Brooklyn Bridge.

Almost every visitor to New York from out of town believes that his visit would be incomplete without crossing the first of the great bridges which span the river and are highways between the boroughs of the Manhattan and Brooklyn.

And wise these visitors are too, for it is a wonderful structure with its path for pedestrians, trains, trolleys, motors and trucks.

I dearly love to cross this bridge in one of the trains at night when the view of the great lighted buildings on the New York shore presents a veritable fairyland.

But to me the most wonderful part of crossing this structure at night is when I can sit in front of the first car and watch the little light along the posts to one side of the track. As long as the lights in front of him are green in color the motorman is able to keep right on. But when he finds that a light on one or two posts ahead is red he knows that another train is not far distant, and although the darkness or dense fog obscures it from view he knows by the lights just how far ahead of his train it is.

Accidents are averted through these little lights, and they are a blessing to the motorman in his little cab, who knows that hundreds of passengers are trusting their lives to his care.

There are generally danger signals in our lives, friends, when we go too near anything which bodes us ill. Of course they are not quite so prominent as the changing lights before the trains, but they are there nevertheless, and it is our duty to recognize them.

One danger signal which never fails us is our best friend, Conscience. A sudden little prick should be every bit as effective to us as the red light is to the motorman. Conscience never gets out of order, either; but it loses its effects after we have ignored it once or twice.

Of course I am more fortunate than you in having this constant reminder of my personal danger signal, for every time I cross this bridge at night these little lights preach me their sermon and I listen carefully to my conscience for days afterwards.

Let us listen always to conscience, friends. If we do so we cannot make a mistake.

AGREES WITH THE KAISER

King of Bavaria Sends Wilhelm an Appreciation of His Defiance

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Amsterdam, Jan. 20.—Appreciation of the kaiser's defiance to the allies and agreeing to his declaration that the Entente's refusal of peace shows their lust of conquest, was expressed in a message from the king of Bavaria to Kaiser Wilhelm today, according to dispatches.

The king's message said: "Your strong words expressing indignation over our enemy's reply finds a lively echo in all our hearts. All the German people share your iron will to break our enemy's presumption."

—Mrs. H. B. Smith of Glendora, California, has arrived for a visit with her father, W. S. Conde, and other relatives. Mr. Conde will accompany her home.

First Skirmish Lost.

The republicans in the state senate have lost the first skirmish to kill the oil inspection bill and thus "relieve" sixty "deserving" democrats of their jobs, but there is said to be a chance yet that the republicans will have opportunity to save the state $100,000 when the bill passes the lower branch of the legislature. What the guiding influence of the senate democrats is has not been disclosed but it is presumed they are "playing politics." However a long suffering public in Indiana which is paying higher state taxes than are collected in any other state—thanks to eight years of mismanagement—may view it in a different light.

The oil inspection department was organized by a republican legislature in 1901. In return for the oil inspection tax, an inspection was made for inflammable materials. It was the practice in those days for gasoline and coal oil to be mixed more or less in the oil of commerce. Public interest and welfare demanded such a test as a matter of protection. Times and customs have changed. It is now not necessary to test oil for inflammable materials. Neither is any test even made of purity. Consequently, oil inspection at the present time is nothing but a large and expensive joke. Three or four men could do the necessary work more efficiently than sixty men do it at this time, but the democrats are fighting Goodrich's plan of abolishing these needless public places as if their own lives depended on their continuation.

If $100,000.00 could be saved to the state and it is not done, such action, in effect, is nothing more than a steal. The democrats who will be responsible, if this saving recommended by the new governor is not made, might figure this a bit harsh way of putting it, but they can explain as long as their breath lasts but they would never be able to dissipate this general conclusion.

The democratic members of the senate have let it be known that they will favor the prevention of this healthy steal, providing the sixty democrats now occupying the public places are permitted to continue in the state service for two more years. This is equivalent to favoring a steal of $100,000.00 a year for two years providing democrats are the beneficiaries of the steal.

If this is the modern Indiana democratic idea of "good politics" it is sufficient to observe that the republicans of Indiana are satisfied; but what of the taxpayers who have become aroused over the democratic record of mismanagement and wanton wastefulness during the past eight years in the conduct of the state's business? The democratic state senators and their advisors may laugh now every time they block some Goodrich move for economy, but they will laugh out of the other corner of their mouths when the taxpayers' next day of reckoning comes early in November 1918.

It will soon be time to "clean up and paint up." And while we are about it let's clean up, paint up, and stay up. To spend a few hours and a few dollars on your yard and property this spring and then forget all about it for the next five years to come is the poorest kind of economy. It is even a first-class extravagance, for the moment a piece of property becomes "rusty" deterioration rapidly sets in and rushes right on to destruction. A few dollars and a little labor in periodical improvements is the best interest you can get on your investment. And what is good for you is equally good for Rushville, the county, and the state.

YOUNG PEOPLE HAVE PART

Will Sing at St. Paul's M. E. Church Meeting Tonight

A unique meeting is planned for St. Paul's M. E. church tonight when the Sunshine chorus, augmented by the Junior choir, will have a prominent part on the program. Every effort is being made to get out a large crowd. Boys of the church paraded the streets today with a big bell advertising the meeting. The Junior choir and Sunshine chorus will sing "De Brewers Big Horses," "Flag Song," "Win Them One by One," and others. A big bell from a locomotive will be used in the first song. Harry G. Ross, the singing evangelist, will tie three boys and give the lessons thus illustrated. The boys have practiced on a temperance yell which they will give.

Don't overlook that 7 acres, house and barn at L. M. Root's public sale, next Tuesday; one third cash, one third six months, one third in 12 months; also 48 double improved brood sows, 26612.

LAST SERVICE IS A FITTING CLIMAX

should die with him. By the latter, he meant developing one's sympathies until they were touched by the things a Christian should feel. He pleaded for deeper spirituality and keener appreciation of the feelings of our fellow men.

"Walk with him, talk with Him, die with Him and then go out into the world to prove you are living with Christ," he concluded.

There was an excellent attendance at the church last evening. Special music by the chorus choir was augmented by a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Ross. The meeting this evening will include several selections by the Sunshine chorus and junior choir.

Dr. Dodds took for his text First Peter 4:17, "What shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God?" He said in part:

"No book ever came by luck of chance. Every book owes its existence to some being or beings. This book, the Bible could not possibly be the product of evil men, for it pronounces the heaviest penalties against sin. Like produces like and if bad men had written the Bible sins of the crimson hue would never have been mentioned. Holy men of old spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost. The only one to whom we can ascribe the origin of the Bible is God. Most men believe in a God. Occasionally we find one who says that he does not, but he is a fool, for the Bible says, 'The Fool hath said in his heart there is no God.' 'Isreal's condition was desperate. Peter told them that if they continued breaking God's law what their end would be. He knew what the end would be. So does every transgressor of God's law. God requires all men to repent. If they do not their end is eternal damnation. If they do they have blessings here and eternal life hereafter. 'What shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God?'

"What is the gospel, that men ought to obey it? It is good news. Its glad tidings of salvation through Jesus Christ. This was the angels message to the shepherds on the plains of Bethlehem. When the Israelites were bitten by the fiery serpents in the wilderness it was good news to them that if they looked upon the brazen serpent they would live. When the deluge was about to come upon the earth, it was good news to Noah, that if he would erect and come in to the ark he would be saved. When the City of Jericho was about to fall it was good news to Rahab that if she would place the scarlet line in the window the invaders would spare her home. Never was such good news published as we have in the gospel of God. 'Thou shalt call His name Jesus for he shall save his people from their sins.'

"Second—What is it to obey the gospel? What was it for Isreal to obey? It was simply to look at the brazen serpent. What was it for Noah to obey? Build the ark. What was it for Rahab to obey? Hang the scarlet cord in the window. What is it to obey the gospel? Its believing God's message and obeying it.

"Third—What will the end be of those that obey not the gospel of God? What was the end of

WINS AND EVENS UP AN OLD SCORE

Rushville High School Basketball Team Shows Real Class in Defeating Shelbyville, 48 to 23

VISITORS NEVER A MENACE

Game, However, Proves Snappiest Seen on Floor Here For Some Time—Martin Scores 22

Rushville evened up an old score last night when the high school defeated the Shelbyville high school in one of the snappiest games of basketball ever seen on the Rushville floor. The visitors were never a real menace and the local five succeeded in more than doubling the score, which was 48 to 23 when the final whistle blew.

Shelbyville drew blood first soon after the players were called to their places, but it was not long before Rushville forged ahead and remained in the lead with the exception of a few minutes in the early part of the first half when Shelby-ville had a two-point margin. The locals, however, soon tied it up and were off far in front. The score at the end of the first half was 18 to 12.

Rushville has been losing to Shelbyville regularly for several years and the crowd went wild when it became apparent early in the first half that Rushville had the most class. Shelbyville showed some flashes of form, but as a general thing their work was ragged. Their worst difficulty was finding the basket, although the locals did not allow them so very many shots.

Martin and Thorpe proved a combination that was hard to stop. Martin managed to mix in most every play and when he or any other red and black suited man missed a throw, he was nearly always under the basket ready to "ease" the ball in as it slid off the ring. He made many points by his indefatigable following of the ball. The fact that Martin scored 22 points, lacking but two of half of the Rushville score, discloses that he was always in the game.

The game was rough, but Rushville had the better of the argument, because Shelbyville was light, but fast and good fighters. The referee had his eye on Norman Reed and called several fouls on him. Joe Campbell, a little mite of a guard with the visitors, roughed it up in good shape despite his size and was in almost every play, but he in turn received some roughing. Though apparently severely hurt several times, he always came up smiling and was liberally applauded by the crowd.

TRYING TO GET SUNDAY BALL

Charles Ebbets of Brooklyn Club
Has Bill That he Will Present to Legislature.

WEST BROADER THAN EAST

Brooklyn Park Would be Packed Every Sunday if Games Were Allowed.

BY H. C. HAMILTON.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
New York, Jan. 20.—Charles Ebbets, discoverer of the Battle of Long Island and several other excuses for holidays, is still in the ring for Sunday baseball.

Winding up his campaign through the baseball season last summer, when he obtained signatures from thousands who visited his Brooklyn park, he is ready to make an attempt to get a bill through the New York legislature.

Critics in this city are of the opinion that Ebbets is going too far in trying to wedge in an extra playing day, and point to figures, which they say, show that New York, with its six-day schedule, draws more persons than the Western cities with seven-day schedules.

How interesting.
When you get down to the root of things and find that New York is six or seven times the size of most western cities, it is pretty easy to see why that it.

Brooklyn isn't hurt by week-end attendance. The big turn-outs on Saturday show what might be accomplished in the borough across the bridge if Sundays were open to baseball.

Out west they have played Sunday baseball for years, and no one makes any objection. Ministers receive and accept with no qualms season passes to minor league parks—and use them. They stay away from the Sunday games, but they don't miss the week-day matinees.

If the west is broad enough to see that a working man hasn't the time to go to a baseball game through the week, it is queer to see some one trying to explain why the east wouldn't like it.

The fans want Sunday baseball.
The thousands who signed the petitions at Ebbets field prove that.

IVAN OLSON MAY BE A MANAGER

Brooklyn Short Stop Who Kicked Away Many Games May Get Job on Pacific Coast.

VERNON SAID TO BE AFTER HIM

One of Cleverest Players in Country as a Thinker but he Doesn't Use Hands.

BY H. C. HAMILTON.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
New York, Jan. 20.—Ivan Olson, derided shortstop of the Dodgers, who kicked away a game in the world's series, who kicked away
many a game in the championship season, is about to get a chance as manager of the Vernon Pacific Coast league club.

Everything has been done to get Olson's release from Brooklyn and he doubtless will be given his opportunity.

Olson, the derided, is one of the cleverest ball players in the country, as a thinker. As a manipulator with his hands he doesn't amount to much. He is a fighter, a never-say-die sort of man, brought up in the rough-and-ready school of the Pacific Coast. There is nothing he wouldn't do, save something decidedly uncivilized, to win a baseball
game.

Olson's head is made up of fast decisions, things to be done at the moment when they mean something.
To back this up he has several bushels of baseball nerve, without which there isn't a real good baseball player alive.

He is one of the most dangerous batsmen in the game with a bat, although his batting average never has been seriously large as a big leaguer.
He has come very close to touching a big league managerial job several times.

Olson should make good on the coast. He is getting into something he knows about. He won't have to play big league baseball in the field to hold his place. He will only be expected to play winning baseball with his team.

The Vernon management will give him anything he asks in the way of playing talent and will leave it up to him to do the rest. With that sort of backing he should make a great showing.

THE MYSTIC SEVEN

The number runs all through history. It is supposed to have originated from the three sides of the triangle and the four sides of the square; or the observation of the seven planets. However, the fact remains that it appears persistently. The world was created in seven days, every seventh year was Sabbatical, all through the Old and New Testament the figure seven was symbolical, the Dove was sent from the Ark on its second mission just seven days from the first mission. Pharaoh's dream was of the seven lean and seven fat kine. This dream was interpreted by Joseph as seven years of plenty and seven years of famine.
Joseph provided for the seven years of famine by storing up in the seven years of plenty. Have you done the same thing?
History repeats itself! We are now in the seven years of plenty!
Why not save up for a possible famine? I can help you!

CHOICE OF POTATOES MADE FOR THE TABLE

The following suggestions to housewives by home economist specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture are made in regard to the selection of potatoes for table use:

In purchasing potatoes for table purposes, the following points should be kept in mind: First, that smooth potatoes are more desirable than rough ones, because they are more easily prepared, and less loss is involved in the paring. Second, that tubers which have been exposed to light for any considerable period soon acquire a more or less acid taste; for this reason, newly harvested potatoes, if mature, are preferable for the winter's supply to those which have been kept for any considerable period under unsuitable conditions. Third, that very large potatoes are not especially desirable, partly on account of the greater length of time required to cook

Belts Typify Spring Coats

The late winter and early spring coats bring this new suggestion of belting in the graceful folds of the soft materials. In this model, the belt fastens at the beginning of the huge pockets. The ever popular fur trimmings form the cuffs, edge of the collar and buttons.

White Sales Misnomer Since Lingerie Makes Turn Pink

Things are Beginning to Look Black for Them, too, Since With All the Craze for the New Black Chantilly, No One Would be Afraid to go to Bed in the Dark if it Were in One of Those Exquisite Nighties of That Material—Either Your Table Linen Must be Chastely and Elegantly Plain or Profusely and Lavishly Ornate.

By MARGARET MASON (Written for United Press.)

With mines and U Boats acting up, This much consoleth me: Since I can't go to sea to sail, I'll go to sale to see.

New York, Jan. 20.—If you still have a little money left after Xmas and New Years don't worry, you won't have it after the January white sales.

In nautical tactics they speak of trimming the sails but in shopping tactics it is the sales that trim you. Fortunately however as you note the set of washable satin chemise in the privacy of your boudoir mirror you have the consolation of knowing that they trim you in more ways than one.

January white sales have become as established a custom in all the best shops as well as Furniture sales in August. I don't quite see how they have the face to call them white sales anymore however. The daring cut of some of the newest lingerie has certainly caused a blushing pinkness to prevail and the alleged white sale is no longer pure white or pure or white.

Things are even beginning to look a bit black for the white sale. What with all the present craze for black Chantilly lingerie, nobody would ever be afraid to go to bed in the dark if it were in one of the exquisite new black Chantilly nighties.

They are almost as light as they are dark anyway, if not more so.

A streak of yellow appears often on the purest silk combinations and mauve, cerise and Copenhagen disrupt the pink perfection of many a combination and chemise.

For those that have pink silk yearnings and only pink cotton earnings the pink batiste lingerie this season is really lovely. I saw a bird of a pair of pink wash crepe pajamas dotted and over with blue birds and a pink crepe nightie covered with blue and white butter flies that was a decidedly fly little garment.

The white sales not only offers covering for your back but for your bed and board as well.

The linen sheets hemstitched embroidered, monogrammed and inset with faces are marked down sufficiently to tempt the tightest of tight wads and as for the table linen well no one can resist it.

Either your table linen must be chastely and elegantly plain or it must be profusely and lavishly ornate. You can see that at the very first glimpse at the white sales.

The war time Penelopes in Belgium and France are busy turning out gossamer laces and embroideries while their war lords are away. The results are table cloths, doilies, lunch cloths, napkins and luncheon sets them uniformly, and partly because they are often very variable in texture. Fourth, a good potato should be firm and crisp when cut, and a thin cross section when held between the eye and the light should show a relatively uniform distribution of starch throughout its whole area, as opposed to a large, translucent, watery, central area which denotes a lack of starch in this portion of the tuber. The even distribution of starch insures greater uniformity in cooking and in texture of the flesh when cooked.

WINTER SPORTS DO NOT ROB GIRL OF CHANCE TO LOOK CHIC

No longer do the winter sports rob the athletic girl of the opportunity of looking chic as well as being comfortable; instead they give her an excuse for looking her best. This winter particularly, the styles have combined to give the youthful wearer freedom of movement and warmth. The sweaters, sets, and sport garments all give a touch of style while they are particularly adapted for the winter sports. Of course, the most extravagant one may wear a set of furs, including the cap, scarf, muff and coat trimmings.

If a lot is not uniform, it is often worth while to sort them and use the large ones with roast meats, or at other times when the oven need not be especially heated, and save the small ones for occasions when quick cooking is more convenient. When the potatoes are very large, or time is pressing, it is often desirable to increase the surface exposed to the heat by cutting them in pieces before cooking, in spite of the fact that this slightly increases the amount of nutrients lost. If they are pared and cut into small cubes or thin slices, they will cook very quickly and may then be creamed, mashed, or served in other ways.

A household novelty is both a nut pick and bottle opener, and can be used to hold an ear of corn while it is being eaten.

CORSETS MORE FATAL THAN WHISKEY, WAR, TOBACCO AND FAMINE.

Indianapolis, Jan. 20.—Mrs. Anna Hoeltke, the woman who will ask the legislature to pass a law abolishing corsets, in Indiana, today declared that "the corset has killed more women and children than whiskey, tobacco, war and famine."

"This is worse than barbarous custom," said she, "of deforming the waists of girls and women as far more injurious than the savage custom of flattening the head of the Chinese custom of binding feet."

"Reports indicate that thousands of deformed babies are born every year as the result of mothers binding their waists with corsets. The government has passed laws prohibiting the sale of habit forming drugs. What is the government going to do to prevent the coming generation from living in a whalebone prison before birth?"

Woman Power as a Means of Discarding Inefficiency

New York, Jan. 20.—Definite plans for the co-ordination of woman's work in peace as well as war will be laid before the Congress of Constructive Patriotism, to be held in Washington, the 25th, 26th and 27th of this month under the auspices of the National Security League.

This will be the beginning of a campaign for the utilization of the woman power of America, as one of the practical means for the elimination of national apathy and inefficiency. In the opinion of many prominent women leaders in civic and social service movement, the organization of the woman power of the nation will form a broad basis of national betterment and service to the country.

The plan to be developed at one of the sessions of the congress will be the result of a deep study of the application of the woman power of America and its relation to preparedness. The woman power of Europe, as developed during the war as a national asset to the warring countries, will form the principal means of showing the need of utilizing the woman power of this country. The plan not only involves the use of this power for war, but its utilization and development as essential in creating a national spirit in time of peace.

Miss Grace Parker, who under the direction of Miss Anne Morgan, Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt and other prominent women, recently made a study of woman conditions abroad, today issued the following statement on the utilization of the woman power of this nation:

"Why should women take an active part in the 'Preparedness Movement' in this country? Just what part should women be expected to take? Are we not disturbing ourselves unnecessarily with all this

'Preparedness' talk? It is not reasonable to suppose that women in America will rise to the situation in time of calamity as the women of Europe have done?—and many similar questions are voiced every day by groups of women and by individuals. Back across the waters from Europe comes the answer to these questions. The great question is—are women in this country ready to benefit by the sorrows, the sufferings, the sacrifices of the women in Europe who a little over two years ago would have answered 'preparedness' suggestions with questioning and with doubt, just as is being done in this country today? Are we ready and willing to take advantage of the greatest opportunity which will ever come to a nation—an opportunity to study the elements which are at work in warstricken Europe and evolve from such a study a program of 'Preparedness' which shall mean the development of woman's resources—women's power, not only for the benefit of the individual, but for the benefit and protection of the corporate life of the nation and for humanity?"

"At the Congress of Constructive Patriotism to be held under the auspices of the National Security League in Washington, January 25th, 26th and 27th, a program of constructive work for women of America, based upon the magnificent work which is being done by the women in Europe will be presented. A woman's session will be held at which prominent women from all parts of the country, as well as representatives of national women's organizations and women's college will be present to take definite action on this woman's program, and to take steps towards co-ordinating the Woman Power of America."

that are fairly like in their fragile beauties. Over colored cloths of gleaming satin these lace and embroidery work of art show to advantage at luncheons, and dinners, carrying out a set color scheme. Just to carry the dolling up of the festal board a step further, centerpieces of gold or silver gauze heavily embroidered in gold or silver threads are a brand new conceit.

For more conservative and dignified taste the plain damask cloths bordered in a broad satin stripe and monogrammed in two places with a square monogram with plain satin stripe bordered monogrammed napkins to match cannot be improved upon. Of course an elaborate lace and embroidery piece is used in the center.

A very original and artistic housewife I knew dressed her dining table up for breakfasts, home dinners and informal luncheons in natural colored crash cloths hemstitched and marked in Chinese monograms of blue with napkins done the same. With these distinctive cloths she uses a service of the Blue and White Chinese Canton chissa.

Naturally she has them made to order or makes them herself and the white sales are showing wonderful bargains in linen crash and natural linen by the yard.

Certainly with its smashing prices and crash by the yard it is no wonder every female these days hears and heeds the call of the white sale.

BLACK WEDDING TODAY IS FIRST OF ITS KIND ON RECORD

(By United Press.)

New York, Jan. 20.—Ora One Powder Puff Prince and designer of women's garb, and Eleanor Klinger, fashion model, were married at St. Vincent de Paul's here today. Theirs was the first "black wedding" on record.

Except for the white principals, the affair was as black as the ace of spades. Wedding traditions were hauled out in a bunch and smashed to pieces. The bride was clad in jet black from her hair and earrings to her toes. The groom wore a black suit, black silk shirt, black linen collar and black gloves.

Later the wedding breakfast at the bride's home was served by black waiters in black. The menu consisted of blackberry cocktails, black bass, black bread, black coffee. It seemed like everything black in the world was there but despair.

"Black," said the bridegroom, "is the ideal color for weddings. As mourning it is losing its significance. No one wears mourning any more. And black is cheaper and more serviceable than any other color."

The couple departed on the Black Diamond express for a honeymoon tour through the principal cities of the west. They said they would give those places a chance to look them over.

Cartoonist and Bride Leave for Treasure Island

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Jan. 20.—John T. McCutcheon, cartoonist, war correspondent and soldier of fortune, who was married here today to Miss Evelyn Shaw, has always had a hankering to live in the haunts of pirates and buried gold. That left him a choice between New York City and Treasure Island. He took the island.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. McCutcheon started on their trip to the land he has dreamed of ever since he sailed his boyhood brig under the skull and crossbones over the hills and dales of Indiana.

McCutcheon recently bought Salt Cay, the island of the Bahama group, perhaps better known as "Treasure Island." This romantic little splotch of land stands up from the sea five miles from Nassau, New Providence, and is in the midst of British territory.

A few drops of ammonia in a cupful of warm water, applied carefully, will remove spots from paintings and chromos.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Oil

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 25 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!

GIVES RENTER CHANCE TO BUY

Farm Loan Act Makes it Easy For Tenant to Purchase Land
With Low Rate of Interest.

PAYMENTS SAME AS RENT

Two Mortgages Would be Given and Amounts Paid Off in Ten Equal Installments.

BY FRANK R. WILSON.

Of the Federal Farm Loan Bureau.
(Written for United Press.)

Washington, Jan. 20.—The question has been frequently asked, "How can a renter who has not saved 50 per cent of the purchase price of land make use of the Federal Farm Loan Act to get land of his own?"

The answer is, by means of a first mortgage given under the Farm Loan Act for 50 per cent of the purchase price—provided this does not exceed 50 per cent of the appraised value—and a second mortgage given to the former owner of the land or to a bank or private money lender, for the balance.

It must be borne in mind that the amount which can be borrowed under the Farm Loan Act is limited to 50 per cent of the appraised value of the land, and this is written on the assumption that the tenant will not pay more for his land than it is, actually worth, or, in other words, its appraised value as contemplated under the Farm Loan Act.

To furnish a concrete example: Suppose John Smith, a renter, wants to buy 100 acres of land, valued at $50 an acre. The total purchase price would be $5,000, but John Smith has not the money to buy it. Under the Farm Loan Act, Smith would be entitled to borrow $2,500 of the appraised value, if this appraised value should be the same as the purchase price. This would leave $2,500 to be handled by a second mortgage. The amount borrowed under the Farm Loan Act could be paid to the original owner of the land and a second mortgage executed for the difference.

The original owner would thus get a satisfactory payment down, and if he had confidence in the purchaser, he would probably be willing to accept a second mortgage for the balance, divided into ten annual payments.

Here is the way it would figure out:

The first mortgage of $2,500 given under the Farm Loan Act would draw, let us say, 5½ per cent interest and would be paid off on the installment plan through a period of forty years by making annual payments of $155.95.

Now let us say that the second mortgage would draw 6 per cent and could be arranged so as to be retired in ten years. The interest on this $2,500 mortgage at 6 per cent would be $150 the first year and one-tenth of the $2,500 would be $250.

Adding the interest and the one-tenth annual payment would mean a payment of $400 on the second mortgage the first year. The second year payment would be $385 and the following payments through the ten years to retire the second mortgage, both principal and interest, would be $370, $355, $340, $325, $310, $295, $280 and $265.

On top of all these annual payments would be the $155.95 interest and amortization payments on the first mortgage to the Federal Land Bank so that the total payments, interest and principal, on the two mortgages would begin at $555.95 and dwindle down to $420.95 the tenth year and after that only $155.95 each year.

If the terms of the second mortgage could be arranged for longer than ten years the required annual payments would be correspondingly reduced.

These payments are no greater than the average tenant pays for rent. The first year payment on both of these mortgages would amount to approximately $5.50 an acre. These would gradually reduce until the tenth year he would be paying $4.20 an acre and each year after that he would be paying only $1.55 per acre per year. Instead of being paid as rental this money is applied on the purchase price of the land.

The interest rates quoted in this instance are suggestions only and are not to be taken as an official statement of what rates prevail under the Farm Loan Act.

A Sharpening of Swords, Instead of Peace,

a stiffening of the resolve to fight on to victory or the bitter end, would seem to be the chief result of President Wilson's efforts to hasten the end of the war in Europe.

This conclusion is reached after reading the Entente Allies' reply to President Wilson's proposal for peace negotiations, altho in some quarters it may be felt that there is still a loophole for a continuance of peace discussion. Lloyd-George, the British Premier, supplements the stiffness of the Allies' answer by saying in his Guildhall speech that "The Allies are still convinced that even war is better than peace at the price of Prussian domination over Europe," and that before anyone can "attempt to rebuild the temple of peace, they must see that the foundations are solid."

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for January 20th, the leading article deals with the Entente Allies' response to President Wilson's request to the warring Powers, and in the form of quotations from statesmen and leading newspapers gives an all-sided presentation of public opinion on the subject.

"The Digest" a First Aid to the Doubtful

The world is now going through a period of momentous changes under conditions that tend almost invariably to make every man and woman a partizan on one side or the other in the great struggle being grimly fought out between autocratic and democratic ideals. With the destiny of our whole social and governmental system hanging in the balance we are so deafened by the clamor of the advocates of these two conflicting parties that we find it hard to know which to follow, or what are the actual rights and wrongs of the questions involved — Here THE LITERARY DIGEST comes to our aid with its cool and sane discussions of these world-shaking events along absolutely impartial lines, quoting from all sorts of periodicals without a shadow of bias. Reading it, we are enabled to recover our bearings, to judge values accurately, to rise above personal and political view-points, and to know things as they are.

CAR OWNERS!

You are interested in our announcement of the arrival of

The machine that enables us to locate starting and lighting trouble easily and thereby saves you money.

We do not use the guesswork way:

But we use AMBU The scientific way:

which means we save you from 10 to 20 hours in repair bills when you have trouble. You can save expense and trouble by having your car tested each month. Troubles not apparent will be found and eliminated before great damage is done.

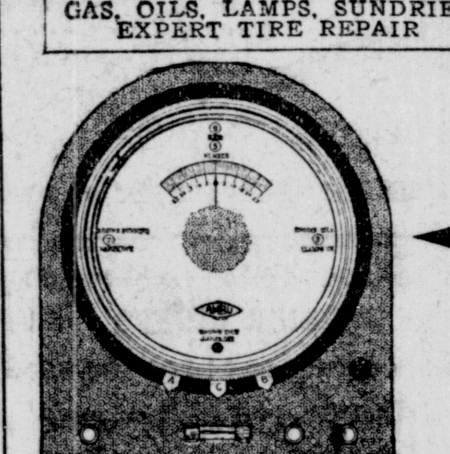

BUT WE DO MORE THAN THAT.

By our monthly inspection service, we catch and stop non-apparent troubles before great damage is done.

This scientific service is possible because we have "inside information" about the miniature electric plant on your car—a complete knowledge of its construction—wiring diagrams showing every wire on your car, and AMBU, the systematic tester and trouble finder.

This is another example of our desire to secure for the car owner, the newest and most valuable service-inventions in the electric engineering field.

PUBLIC HAS NO USE FOR SLACKER

Civilian in England is Generally Scored Regardless of His Excuses

OPINION IS AGAINST HIM

Street Car Conductor Tackles Wrong Man When he Jumps New Yorker About Going to War

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
By J. W. PEGLER

London, Jan. 16.—(By Mail)—“Why aren't you in the Army?”

Next to calling a man a German, that is the favorite insult, amounting to “fighting words,” now in use in London. The civilian hasn't much chance of a come-back except with his fists so if he retorts at all it is usually with his right.

The waiter with a little gold or silver strip on his sleeve, meaning that he has been shot or gassed, throws a sneering glance at the civilian diner. The soup is cold and

As the Conscription Act exempts nobody without reason, the civilian has a good legal right to be a civilian. But he can't go into details about his tribunal hearing so he scrapes the waiter's head with a ketchup-bottle.

But the civilian usually gets the worst of it regardless of whether he succeeds in punishing his tormentor. Public opinion just naturally drifts against him.

It is the same on the street if he accidentally bumps another pedestrian. He may apologize but if resentment isn't appeased the injured party reels off the crowning insult.

Americans generally escape because their “accent” excludes them from English army consideration. But once in a while someone makes a mistake as a bus conductor did with a New York chauffeur.

“Why aren't you in the Army?” demanded the conny, after a trivial argument.

The New Yorker's reply was made to order.

UNPOPULAR STATE PESTS.

BY R. E. SNODGRASS.
(Assistant State Entomologist)
(Written for United Press.)

The groundhog is in his hole, the frog is at the bottom of the pond, the birds have gone to Florida—but where is the apple worm? Why, out in the orchard, snugly tucked away in a little house of silk constructed by himself beneath some piece of loosened bark, in a crevice of the fence or perhaps in a crack about the packing shed. There he stays all winter digesting his summer meal, probably enjoying the simple life, although he ate enough green apple in his youth to have the colic for the rest of his days.

Each spins about itself a thick cocoon of silk and oval case with neither doors nor windows and too short even to allow the worm to stretch out at full length. From this prison, the worm will never again emerge as a worm. In early spring each cuts a hole in the front of its cell in anticipation; it changes to a chrysalis, wherein takes place that reconstruction which transforms the worm into a moth. After about a month, the chrysalis becomes active wriggles itself partly out of its front door and remains projecting there,

Then the skin splits over its forward end and the moth comes out—the dreaded codling moth, the females of which will lay the eggs from which will hatch the new spring brood of apple worms.

After they hatch is the time to kill them with a spray of arsenate of lead.

If you wish beautiful, clear, white clothes, use Red Cross Ball Blue. All grocers.

Hot Water for Sick Headaches

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headache of any kind, is caused by auto-intoxication—which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood, through the lymph ducts, excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilide, aspirin or the bromides which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drunk before breakfast for awhile, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache but will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar, and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour, acid stomach, begin the phosphate hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

Results are quick and it is claimed that those who continue to flush out the stomach, liver and bowels every morning never have any headache or know a miserable moment.

BARTLETT IS GETTING READY

His Polar Expedition Will be Ready to Sail During Summer of 1918—Strictly Scientific

TO STUDY NATURAL FORCES

Will be Equipped With Two Scout Monoplanes For Taking of Observations.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Equipped for a scientific study of the Polar regions, 800,000 square miles of which never have been sailed or trod by man, the Bartlett Polar expedition, the first purely scientific expedition to enter the far north, will sail from the United States during the summer of 1918.

Scientific research, rather than discovery, will be our first object.

I will take but ten men into the Polar belt with me—including ship's crew, mechanics, and scientists. Each will be a man of trial calibre, for once set out, there will be no return ticket to the civilized world, at least under 8 to 5 years. Each man must be capable of supreme endurance and versatility.

Two or three scout-type monoplanes, an innovation in polar expeditions, will be included in our equipment to supplement the customary dogs and sledges.

These will be used for observation purposes from the base of operations, always the ship, and might prove invaluable in returning to civilization should the expedition meet with disaster.

How the natural forces operate at the Pole; whether the perpetually moving ice-floes of the Arctic sea, swirl in a continuous circle about the Pole; whether their movement is directed by a constant east wind—so frequently noted in former expeditions—or whether by ocean currents; just what atmospheric conditions prevail—these are some of the questions we hope to be able to answer before the trip is concluded.

A careful study of the fauna life on the ocean-floor of the Arctic, with comparisons with the animal-culac existence of other waters, will also form a part of the research work. Charting of new lands—if such exist and soundings of the Arctic ocean in various latitudes are further objectives. Admiral Peary, making deep soundings at the Pole, probed for 9,000 feet—nearly two miles—without finding a bottom.

Our ship, which we hope soon to have under construction, will be built of toughest live-oak, with special constructive features to resist the terrific impact with ice-floes naturally to be expected on such a trip. It will be small, to permit of quick moving, which is often imperative to escape being caught and crushed like an egg-shell between rapidly approaching ice fields. If caught in such a cul-de-sac, the only recourse is blasting out a "berth" with dynamite, or abandoning the vessel to her fate.

The ability to sense danger from approaching ice, and to act swiftly and decisively, is one of the most necessary requirements of arctic explorers.

The ship will carry a most complete equipment of scientific instruments—many probably supplied by the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey. Tinned foods of all kinds, tea, coffee and chocolate, will be carried to provide a varied diet for the long period in which we shall be distinctly out of the pale of the menu card and the warm bath. Our principal food, however, will consist of seal, walrus and polar-bear steaks. We can, at some convenient place in the arctic, kill several thousand of these and pile them up on the ice, covered with snow, as our food reserve. They will keep, of course, indefinitely.

The average winter temperature we will encounter will be 35 or 40 degrees below zero, this slightly moderating in the brief summer.

Starting out from some port on the Pacific, probably Seattle, in July, we will pass through Bering Strait and proceed north around Alaska. Arriving at some point off the American coast in September, we will "set" the ship in the rapidly forming ice-fields, and resign ourselves to a continuous drift with the ice, wherever it may lead us.

Once Wealthy And Later Poor Boy Becomes Partner Of Morgan Today

BY GEORGE MARTIN.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Jan. 20.—A young man walked into the House of Morgan at the corner of Wall and Broad streets here today and sat down at the desk he had had his eye on for twenty years.

The young man was Thomas Cochran of St. Paul, Minnesota, who, born among riches and later forced into poverty, has struggled back up the ladder to the point of success where J. P. Morgan invited him to become his twelfth business partner. Cochran officially assumed this enviable position in the world of finance today.

Cochran was confronted twenty years ago with the alternative of working his way through his last year at Yale, or quitting. His father's death and the loss of the family fortune put it up to the young man from St. Paul.

Young Cochran worked his way through the last year. He forewent society, in which he had played a large part; also football, despite the fact that he was a member of the Yale team, likewise Skull & Bones, the exclusive fraternity to which he had been elected. He took work as a tutor. He took other work too and when he graduated he had the habit.

Ten years ago Cochran was working for a real estate company here for wages that almost any Wall Street clerk would curl his lip at. He had "stuck" there seven years at the same salary, but he knew what he was about. He knew what he had and he was content to wait for the psychological moment to get into the big play.

Then Henry P. Davison, a partner of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, "discovered" Cochran and invited him to help reorganize the Astor Trust Company. Cochran's advance since then has been rapid, but he has stood the test and no flaws have developed.

The real estate clerk of ten years ago today is not only a Morgan partner, but also a director of the Astor Trust Company, Knox Hat Company, Submarine Corporation, the Kennecott Copper Company, the Hecla Iron Works, the United Drygoods Company, the Associated Merchants Company, Lord & Taylor, and the American Piano company.

point between Spitsbergen and Greenland. In thus drifting with the ice, we will be able to note its trend and just what forces are operating in its directions. Whether it is moved principally by the water currents beneath, or is driven by a constant wind, is yet to be determined. Numbers of important scientific theories may be either blasted or substantiated through these conversations.

Frequent, hourly if possible, soundings will be taken of the sea bottom, and specimens of the fauna from the sea-floor collected. The theory that at some former age, the earth's equator was located at what is now the Pole and changed to its present position by a "flip-flop" of the earth, may be somewhat cleared up by a study of dead fauna life of the Arctic ocean, if any can be obtained.

The expedition will include some distinguished meteorologist, in order that an intensive study of the atmospheric laws obtaining at the pole, may be made in the interest of science, and navigation.

18 YEARS OF LIVER TROUBLE

Finally Relieved by the Old Reliable Thedford's Black-Draught.

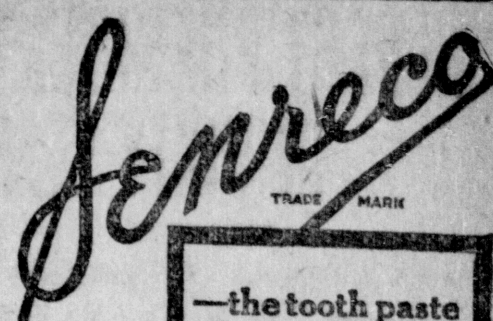

Traverse City, Mich.—Mrs. J. W. Edwards, of this town, says: "I suffered for about 18 years with liver trouble, and doctored with many different remedies. At last, I was told that an operation was the only thing that would help me, but I heard of Thedford's Black-Draught, and took six 25-cent packages and it cured me. I can recommend it to all who suffer from liver troubles."

I have influenced several of my neighbors to take Black-Draught Liver Medicine, and I give it to my grandchildren.

I can safely say that I owe my life to Black-Draught, as it put me on my feet after everything else had failed. You know that you can depend upon Black-Draught Liver Medicine for quick and permanent relief in all disorders of the liver, stomach and bowels, such as indigestion, constipation, biliousness, headache, sour stomach, tired feeling, and many other common ailments, because, in the past 75 years, it has helped so many thousands of people, whose troubles were similar to these.

Safe, gentle in action, and without bad after-effects, Black-Draught is sure to benefit both young and old. Sold everywhere. 25c a package. Costs only one cent a dose. NCB4

A DENTISTS FORMULA

VEGETABLE CALOMEL

Vegetable calomel, extract of the root of the old-fashioned may-apple plant, does not salivate. As a liver stimulant, it's great. It's a perfect substitute for ordinary calomel (mercury); in fact, it's better, because its action is gentle instead of severe and irritating—and it leaves no mean, disagreeable after-effects. Physicians recognize this and prescribe may-apple root (podophyllin, they call it) daily.

Combined with four other standard, all-vegetable remedies, may-apple root may now be had at most any druggist's in convenient sugar-coated tablet form by asking for Santal Laxatives. If you forget the name, ask for the box that has the picture of the soldier on it.

These tablets are small, easy to take and are really wonderful little performers.

They quickly clean out the poisons that are causing your headache, constipation, sour stomach, biliousness, dizzy spells, bad breath and coated tongue.

They are a cleanser and liver regulator. A 10c box should last one several weeks. A Physician's trial package (4 doses) will be mailed you free if you write mentioning this advertisement. The Santal Remedies Co., 902 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

OLDEST PRESIDENT
IN SIXTY YEARS

When Wilson is Inaugurated For Second Time March 5 he Will be Over 60 Years.

ROOSEVELT THE YOUNGEST

Washington, Jan. 20.—President Wilson is the oldest Executive to preside over the destinies of the United States for the last 60 years. When he is inaugurated for the second time March 5 he will be sixty years old, a span of years that no president has crossed since the inauguration of Buchanan in 1857.

Incidentally the President is one of the six oldest Executive ever in the White House. Previous to 1861 the men chosen to hold the reins of government generally reached a late period in life before their election. John Adams was 61 when inaugurated in 1797, Jackson also was 61 when first inaugurated in 1829. Benjamin Harrison was the oldest man ever chosen for the Presidency, being 68 at the time of his inauguration in 1841. Taylor was 64 and Buchanan 65, respectively, when they were inaugurated respectively.

Aside from these all Presidents have been younger than Woodrow Wilson when entering the White House. This has been particularly noticeable in the last fifty years when all Executives have been comparatively young. Theodore Roosevelt was the youngest President ever inaugurated in this country, being but 42 when he took office.

The Waste Basket.

Dear Reader—Yesterday we wrote in this box telling you why and how you should help stop the paper famine in the United States by saving rags and waste paper.

You can sell them to the junk man.

Save clean white cotton or linen rags and clean unbleached cotton and linen rags. Scraps and small pieces are as good as big ones. Shirts, table damasks, toweling, cotton and linen dress goods are fine. Also soiled white rags, both new and used and colored cloths that are bleachable, but keep blacks, reds, maroons and dark browns separate from this pile. In fact, keep all these classifications separated.

Aside from this, put all other rags, too poor in quality for any of those classifications, in a pile by themselves.

Don't put in any of these bundles rags that are excessively greasy or have rubber in them. Nor any corsets, rubber cloths of any kind, or suspenders. Put clean black rags in a separate pile. This includes socks. Woolen rags of all kinds are valuable. Tomorrow we'll tell about paper.

WHAT-YOU-MAY COLUMN

Legs

Legs are convenient attachments used by human beings for climbing streets cars, elevators, automobiles and other modes of transportation. At other times we just let them dangle from our waistlines.

Legs originally were designed in pairs, for human beings to get around on. But we've outgrown them. The only really useful leg today is the leg of ham or the leg of mutton.

Legs still constitute the only real excuse for burlesque shows, of course; and they're an aid in kicking cats and unwelcome suitors. But as things to walk on, we keep them only for emergencies.

This applies only to human beings. With horses, cows, pigs and like animals it's different. They still have use for a leg on each corner.

There is only one valid argument in favor of legs. If we didn't have them, what would we do with our feet?

REPEATS STORY OF A "JOY RIDE"

Joseph Interreiden of Cincinnati,
Here to Spy on Wife, Becomes Witness in Divorce Case

TESTIFIES IN THE MAY SUIT

Carney Case is Held Open Until Tuesday so One Other Witness
May Add Testimony

The story of a suddenly interrupted "joy ride" of two Rushville women in a taxi with two men—other than their husbands—came out in the divorce trial today of the case of Hazel M. May against Walter May. The joy-ride episode was told by Joseph Interreiden of Cincinnati and according to his testimony, one of the women was his wife and the other was Mrs. May.

The Carney divorce case was pushed into the background in point of interest when Interreiden took the stand during a lull in the Carney case and proceeded to tell all he knew about the relations between Mrs. May, the plaintiff in the action, and his own wife with other men. The case was reopened again this afternoon and this time the court room was crowded with a throng expecting to hear something of the sensational. The crowd was not greatly disappointed.

Some of the evidence in the May divorce suit had been introduced but as the court was not satisfied additional evidence was brought to his attention. Interreiden made a good witness for May. He stated that he came here from Cincinnati to find his wife and after looking things over decided they were not as they should be. Night before last he discovered Mrs. May and his wife, Mrs. Interreiden getting into a taxi-cab. Interreiden, according to his testimony, jumped on the running board of the machine and readily recognized the occupants of the car.

By threats he compelled the driver of the car to drive to the jail with intentions of having the entire bunch locked up for the night, but he stated that the sheriff would not take the four because he had no charge against them.

Further evidence disclosed that another Rushville man has suddenly left the city because he found that his name was going to be connected with the divorce suit. Interreiden stated that he had seen this man come and go frequently from the home of Mrs. May. Interreiden's wife faced him at the hearing but this did not stop him and he told his story in a loud, clear voice, adding emphasis where it best suited the story. He admitted on cross-examination that he came here to spy on his own wife and ran across this testimony bearing on the May case. The case had not been completed at a late hour this afternoon.

The Carney case was completed this afternoon at two o'clock with the exception of one witness. The case will be held open until next Tuesday in order that this witness may testify. The witness is ill and could not be in court. Mr. Carney was again the main witness today. He was on the stand most of the day, making in all about two days that he was on the stand. His financial matters were again gone into and attorneys testified as to amount of fees the lawyers should be entitled to have.

LAST SERVICE A FITTING CLIMAX

Total Decisions for Christ Brought up to 28 as Dr. D. D. Dodds Concludes Work Here

IS PRESENTED WITH A CHECK

Dr. J. A. McCuaig Prescribes Course for Church, in Sermon at St. Paul's M. E. Last Night

The closing sermon of Dr. D. D. Dodds at the United Presbyterian church last night served as a fitting climax to the protracted meetings which have been in progress for two weeks. Parents, young men and women and boys and girls crowding forward in the aisles to confess Christ furnished an inspiring sight that those who were present say they will not soon forget. Last night's additions brought the total number of decisions for Christ during the meeting up to twenty-eight. Dr. Dodds last night from the pulpit thanked the newspapers for support given the meeting.

Dr. Dodds left today for Xenia, Ohio, where he is the pastor of the First United Presbyterian church. Deep appreciation of his work here was expressed today by members of the U. P. congregation and others who have attended and aided in the revival. As a slight token of their appreciation, the congregation last night presented him with a check. The pastor, the Rev. J. T. Aikin, will preach a special evangelistic message Sunday night and the white-robed choir will sing again.

Dr. J. A. McCuaig of New York City, who is here to hold a series of meetings Sunday in the interests of the World League for Peace, preached at the St. Paul's M. E. church last evening in connection with the revival services, bringing out the weaknesses of the churches here in Indiana and prescribing the cures for them. "A physician, when seeking to find the illness of a man first feels his pulse and ascertains the strength of the man. So, shall I look first for the things in your church that should be strong," he began. Dr. McCuaig simply held the audience spellbound by his sincerity, his deep spirituality, and his very appealing voice.

The needs of the church he divided into three classes. "You show lack of enthusiasm for the Christ. True enough, you are enthusiastic about your church, about different departments, but you should be enthusiastic about Christ himself. Do not put all of your enthusiasm into the organization. Again, the church today has come to be more of a messenger of Christ than it is an ambassador. There is a difference in these words," as he illustrated by a story of the small boy who was a messenger and did merely what he was told while the boy who was an ambassador overcame the difficulties that came up in his way and saw that his commission was performed. "The church today is merely a messenger. It compromises to wealth, to education, to anything, when it should stand firmly by the teachings of Christ.

"And most important the members of our churches have forgotten the importance and the responsibility of saving souls." The speaker drew several vivid pictures of sinners dying without the Christ and by them, emphasized the grave importance of saving souls. The three remedies he prescribed were simple ones:

"In this busy life of today, you give all your time to business, to your social life, to the more trivial things of life and neglect that one all important thing. Your lives will be transformed if you give more time to quiet meditation with God.

DEPLORE FAKE
STOCK SCHEMES

Boosters Back of Factory Project
Relate That "Get-Rich-Quick"
Projects Still Pay Here

MONEY BETTER BE USED HERE

They Point to Worth of New Industry Right Now and May Have Something to Announce Soon

Those who have been boosting the project to locate a factory in Rushville may have something definite to announce soon, but in the meantime they have noted that "fake" mining schemes and other worthless projects can still be made to pay in Rushville when the money that is invested in "get-rich-quick" contrivances might better be used for the betterment of Rushville. In that way, it is argued, local capital could be used to the advantage not only of the individual investor but to the community as well, whereas most money put in oil and mining stock and similar things is a dead loss.

One man commented on the fact that only lately a promoter came here and was not only able to sell stock which may or may not be of no value but also induced a leading citizen to accompany him on his visitations, introduce him and lend said citizen's influence to the "cause."

The men back of the plan to invest money in a building suited to the needs of a factory, if one can be found which will locate here, purely as an investment, deplore this sort of thing because the investment of good money in foreign undertakings of uncertain termination injures the cause for which they stand.

Enough money has been pledged to build a structure which will meet the demands of an ordinary factory and the only thing now is to find the right factory. Correspondence has been carried on with several firms, but nothing definite has resulted yet. However, those back of the plan may have something of a tangible nature to work on within a week or so.

The railroads have been co-operating with the boosters most willingly and have placed several good prospects in the way of the Rushville men who are working solely for the good of Rushville and are thus indirectly aiding in something which will make their investment here better if it is successful.

WITHDRAWAL IS INDICATED

Signs of Expedition Leaving Mexico
But Funston Denies It

(By United Press.)
El Paso, Jan. 20.—Although official announcement is lacking, there is every indication today that withdrawal of General Pershing's punitive expedition from Mexico had virtually begun. Reports today stated that the American camp at El Valle, Pershing's southernmost outpost was broken yesterday, the troops there yesterday starting northward to join the main camp.

"NOTHING TO IT"—FUNSTON

San Antonio, Texas, Jan. 20.—"Absolutely nothing to it," said General Funston this afternoon when asked if reports that Pershing's expedition was on its way out of Mexico were true.

THREE MEXICANS INDICTED

San Antonio, Texas, Jan. 20.—Three Mexicans were today indicted by the federal grand jury on charges of exporting 10,000 rounds of cartridges into Mexico November 10, 1916. They were arrested and gave bond to appear in court Monday.

Roy Thompson returned to his home in Newcastle today after visiting friends here.

PIGMY U-BOATS ARE CARRIED BY RAIDER

Captain of Captured Steamer Says
Small Submarines Were Abroad
German Sea Scourge

OPERATE IN SMALL RADII

By CHARLES P. STEWART
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
(Copyright 1917 by United Press)
Buenos Aires, Jan. 20.—Pigmy submarines—eighteen feet in length—are carried by the German raider which has wrought such damage to allied shipping in Atlantic waters.

The captain of the captured steamer Netherby Hall was authority for this statement today.

"Three submarines are carried by the raider," he said. "They are capable of operation over a small radius and are equipped with torpedoes, dynamite and ammunition."

Such additional details as this indicating the typical German thoroughness with which the raider was prepared and equipped led shipping circles to predict a long chase by allied warships before the sea scourge is cornered.

FIRST REPORTS OF SIGHTING RAIDER

Brazilian Packet Bahia Says She Sighted Strange Vessel Off Northern Coast of Brazil

ALLIED SHIPS CONCENTRATE

(By United Press.)
Rio De Janeiro, Jan. 20.—First reports indicating the general location of the German South Atlantic raider was received here today. The Brazilian packet steamer Bahia reported she had sighted a vessel believed to be the raider off the northern coast of Brazil Thursday. The stranger was traveling north.

Practically all South American nations are taking steps strictly to guard the neutrality of their waters. The Uruguayan government sent a steamer today to patrol its coast line. The Brazilian government had already dispatched several of its war vessels to back up its enforcement of its neutrality.

Meanwhile dispatches up and down the South American coast indicated a concentration of allied warships had sped north searching for the sea terror. Pernambuco reported arrival of two British auxiliary cruisers.

COMPLICATIONS
LOOM UP AHEAD

More Danger of Trouble With Germany as Outgrowth of Raider's Activity Than in Months

NEUTRALS HELD PRISONERS

(By United Press.)
Washington, Jan. 20.—Danger of complications with Germany over marine problems seems to authorities today to be nearer than for months past.

Her capture of neutrals and making them prisoners on the steamer Yarrowdale plug the strong trend of German sentiment toward wider submerging made these possibilities more ominous.

The official German statement recounting that the missing Yarrowdale with more than 450 souls aboard had been "brought into harbor" as a prize—with a number of neutral prisoners, gave rise to a graver concern than anything that has happened in months.

DR. M'CUAIG TO SPEND BUSY DAY

Celebrated Preacher of Social and Civic Righteousness Will Speak
Five Times Sunday

A MASS MEETING AT NINE P. M.

Addresses in All Churches Will be Introductory to Course of Lectures Here Next Week

Dr. J. Aspinall McCuaig of New York, the celebrated preacher of social and civic righteousness, will spend a busy day in Rushville Sunday, delivering no less than five different addresses in the interest of social betterment in as many different churches. His first meeting will start at 10:30 in the morning and the last one at 9 at night.

These Sunday addresses will be but introductory to a course of lectures to be delivered by Dr. McCuaig each afternoon and evening of next week. The afternoon lectures, which will take place at three o'clock, will be for women only; and the night addresses at 7:30 for both men and women. The first of these week meetings will be held in St. Paul's M. E. church, with the expectation of transferring them to the Main Street Christian church as soon as the auditorium of the Methodist is overtaken by the attendance.

As educational head of a great national reform association, university lecture on eugenics and popular teacher of right living, Dr. McCuaig enjoys an international reputation and it is stated that Rushville was fortunate in having him here for a week.

At 10:30 a. m. Sunday he will occupy the pulpit at the Main Street Christian church and will speak on "God's Need of Men." At 2 p. m. in the First Baptist church he will address a mass meeting of men on the theme, "What Education Does a Man Need for Marriage?" Immediately following there will be a women's meeting at three o'clock at which he will speak on the subject, "How Girls Fall." At 7 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church he will preach on the topic, "The Pride of Man." The crowning event of the day will come at 9 p. m. when Dr. McCuaig will address a mass meeting of all the churches of the city on the subject, "A Million Dollar Secret."

Of the great work accomplished by him in the east a recent magazine article says:

"A most remarkable man has sprung up in the land. He is heralded by many as a prophet, and wherever he goes people flock to him.

"From every town he visits the stories of his influence come.

"He builds no tabernacle, but no building can hold the people when once his grip is upon the community.

"Extravagant things have been said of this strange teacher and preacher, and many curious persons have been drawn to his ministry by the published statements of his marvelous influence; but the strangest thing of all is that those who are so drawn go forth to declare that the half has not been told."

Like a whirlwind of righteousness, Dr. McCuaig has swept West Virginia and western Pennsylvania during the last eight months. Presiding over one of his great meetings in Charleston, Governor Hatfield said recently: "The state of West Virginia will ever be grateful for the burning utterances of Dr. McCuaig, and the strong educational foundations he has laid. He speaks with all the passion of the preacher on fire with the evils that have overtaken men; but with the balancing

Amusements

The Princess offers the five act drama "Fruits of Desire" for the first picture tonight. Robert Warwick is featured and it is said to tell a powerful story. In addition to this picture a comedy "His Baby" will be shown. On Monday night Robert Warwick and Gerda Holmes will be seen in the drama "Friday the 13th."

This World War

which has played such a prominent part in the high cost of living — which has affected nearly every possible line of business and industry—which is causing the merchant to say to his prospective customer, "The price on this article is higher, Because of the war"

BUT THIS WORLD WAR

has not hit us—yet. The price of our acids and chemicals which are used in our cleaning department, has advanced far from our means to purchase them—we bought them before this war began and have enough on hand to last until it ends, maybe. Be prudent. Preserve the materials of your clothes by having them dry cleaned and pressed. You can't buy new clothes for what you paid for the present ones.

Indianapolis Street Car Plunges Against Railing of Bridge

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 20.—Nineteen persons were seriously injured when a street car going at a high rate of speed left the track and plunged against the heavy railing of Pleasant Run bridge early today. Fifty-five passengers were on the car. All were bruised and cut by flying glass.

Police declared that the motorman, John McCary, appeared to have been drinking. He was placed under arrest on the charge of assault and battery. McCary declared that he was sick and had fainted while running the car.

PRESS GERMAN LINES

(By United Press.)
London, Jan. 20.—Russia is exerting such tremendous pressure on the German line south of Riga that it may have its effects on the German progress in Roumania. In several places the Russians have broken through the German line and the positions they took were the ones the Teutons constructed in the twelve months' occupancy. The Russian advances were made in spite of snow storms, very cold weather and marsh lands.

SURVEYS TAKE TIME.

(By United Press.)
San Francisco, Jan. 19.—It will take 503 years to make a complete survey of the waters of Alaska, California, Washington and Oregon, according to estimates made by Supt. E. Lester Jones, of the U. S. Coast & Geodetic survey. The estimates are based on progress made with the present facilities. It will take 333 years to complete the survey of Alaska water and 170 years to chart the waters of Washington, Oregon and California, he says.

TO REPLACE U. S. TROOPS

(By United Press.)
Washington, Jan. 20.—Prepared, it was officially stated, to take over the territory which will be vacated when General Pershing's column withdraws from Mexico, 10,000 Caranzistas have arrived at Torreon from the south, state department dispatches said today.

WHEN GREEK MEETS GREEK

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 20.—When J. E. Donelson was introduced to Senator Negley in an Indianapolis hotel, Donelson said: "No doubt you remember Ft. Donelson? My grandfather built it."
"Well he didn't have anything on my father, he shot it up," said Negley.
"Shake," said Donelson, "he did a good job."

Calls

The call is an inquisitive move made by poker players and society women when they want to see what the other fellow's got. In either case it is fatal if the other fellow has nothing.

The call of infinite variety and many kinds. There is, for instance, the call: Of the Wild—Of the unutterable bore—Of the loan you can't pay—Of the neighborhood to-morrows at midnight—Of the bill collector—Of the boss when you're late.

"Call" is the preacher's way of describing an offer of a better job at more pay. But that's no call. That's a raise.

BLACKS BEAT REDS

The Blacks beat the Reds, 6 to 2, in the curtain raiser to the Rushville-Shelbyville high school basketball game last night. The teams were composed of high school girls.

Lights of Brooklyn Bridge.

Almost every visitor to New York from out of town believes that his visit would be incomplete without crossing the first of the great bridges which span the river and are highways between the boroughs of the Manhattan and Brooklyn.

And wise these visitors are too, for it is a wonderful structure with its path for pedestrians, trains, trolleys, motors and trucks.

I dearly love to cross this bridge in one of the trains at night when the view of the great lighted buildings on the New York shore presents a veritable fairyland.

But to me the most wonderful part of crossing this structure at night is when I can sit in front of the first car and watch the little light along the posts to one side of the track. As long as the lights in front of him are green in color the motorman is able to keep right on. But when he finds that a light on one or two posts ahead is red he knows that another train is not far distant, and although the darkness or dense fog obscures it from view he knows by the lights just how far ahead of his train it is.

Accidents are averted through these little lights, and they are a blessing to the motorman in his little cab, who knows that hundreds of passengers are trusting their lives to his care.

There are generally danger signals in our lives, friends, when we go too near anything which bodes us ill. Of course they are not quite so prominent as the changing lights before the trains, but they are there nevertheless, and it is our duty to recognize them.

One danger signal which never fails us is our best friend, Conscience. A sudden little prick should be every bit as effective to us as the red light is to the motorman. Conscience never gets out of order, either; but it loses its effects after we have ignored it once or twice.

Of course I am more fortunate than you in having this constant reminder of my personal danger signal, for every time I cross this bridge at night these little lights preach me their sermon and I listen carefully to my conscience for days afterwards.

Let us listen always to conscience, friends. If we do so we cannot make a mistake.

King of Bavaria Sends Wilhelm an Appreciation of His Defiance

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Amsterdam, Jan. 20.—Appreciation of the kaiser's defiance to the allies and agreeing to his declaration that the Entente's refusal of peace shows their lust of conquest, was expressed in a message from the king of Bavaria to Kaiser Wilhelm today, according to dispatches.

The king's message said: "Your strong words expressing indignation over our enemy's reply finds a lively echo in all our hearts. All the German people share your iron will to break our enemy's presumption."

First Skirmish Lost.
The republicans in the state senate have lost the first skirmish to kill the oil inspection bill and thus "relieve" sixty "deserving" democrats of their jobs, but there is said to be a chance yet that the republicans will have opportunity to save the state $100,000 when the bill passes the lower branch of the legislature. What the guiding influence of the senate democrats is has not been disclosed but it is presumed they are "playing politics." However a long suffering public in Indiana which is paying higher state taxes than are collected in any other state—thanks to eight years' mismanagement—may view it in a different light.

The oil inspection department was organized by a republican legislature in 1901. In return for the oil inspection tax, an inspection was made for inflammable materials. It was the practice in those days for gasoline and coal oil to be mixed more or less in the oil of commerce. Public interest and welfare demanded such a test as a matter of protection. Times and customs have changed. It is now not necessary to test oil for inflammable materials. Neither is any test even made of purity. Consequently, oil inspection at the present time is nothing but a large and expensive joke. Three or four men could do the necessary work more efficiently than sixty men do it at this time, but the democrats are fighting Goodrich's plan of abolishing these needless public places as if their own lives depended on their continuation.

If $100,000.00 could be saved to the state and it is not done, such action, in effect, is nothing more than a steal. The democrats who will be responsible, if this saving recommended by the new governor is not made, might figure this a bit harsh way of putting it, but they can explain as long as their breath lasts but they would never be able to dissipate this general conclusion.

The democratic members of the senate have let it be known that they will favor the prevention of this healthy steal, providing the sixty democrats now occupying the public places are permitted to continue in the state service for two more years. This is equivalent to favoring a steal of $100,000.00 a year for two years providing democrats are the beneficiaries of the steal.

If this is the modern Indiana democratic idea of "good politics" it is sufficient to observe that the republicans of Indiana are satisfied; but what of the taxpayers who have become aroused over the democratic record of mismanagement and wanton wastefulness during the past eight years in the conduct of the state's business? The democratic state senators and their advisors may laugh now every time they block some Goodrich move for economy, but they will laugh out of the other corner of their mouths when the taxpayers' next day of reckoning comes early in November 1918.

It will soon be time to "clean up and paint up." And while we are about it let's clean up, paint up, and stay up. To spend a few hours and a few dollars on your yard and property this spring and then forget all about it for the next five years to come is the poorest kind of economy. It is even a first-class extravagance, for the moment a piece of property becomes "rusty" deterioration rapidly sets in and rushes right on to destruction. A few dollars and a little labor in periodical improvements is the best interest you can get on your investment. And what is good for you is equally good for Rushville, the county, and the state.

Will Sing at St. Paul's M. E. Church Meeting Tonight

A unique meeting is planned for St. Paul's M. E. church tonight when the Sunshine chorus, augmented by the Junior choir, will have a prominent part on the program. Every effort is being made to get out a large crowd. Boys of the church paraded the streets today with a big bell advertising the meeting. The Junior choir and Sunshine chorus will sing "De Brewers Big Horses," "Flag Song," "Win Them One by One," and others. A big bell from a locomotive will be used in the first song. Harry G. Ross, the singing evangelist, will tie three boys and give the lessons thus illustrated. The boys have practiced on a temperance yell which they will give.

should die with him. By the latter, he meant developing one's sympathies until they were touched by the things a Christian should feel. He pleaded for deeper spirituality and keener appreciation of the feelings of our fellow men.

"Walk with him, talk with him, die with him and then go out into the world to prove you are living with Christ," he concluded.

There was an excellent attendance at the church last evening. Special music by the chorus choir was augmented by a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Ross. The meeting this evening will include several selections by the Sunshine chorus and junior choir.

Dr. Dodds took for his text First Peter 4:17, "What shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God?" He said in part:

"No book ever came by luck of chance. Every book owes its existence to some being or beings. This book, the Bible could not possibly be the product of evil men, for it pronounces the heaviest penalties against sin. Like produces like and if bad men had written the Bible sins of the crimson hue would never have been mentioned. Holy men of old spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost. The only one to whom we can ascribe the origin of the Bible is God. Most men believe in a God. Occasionally we find one who says that he does not, but he is a fool, for the Bible says, 'The Fool hath said in his heart there is no God.'"

"Israel's condition was desperate. Peter told them that if they continued breaking God's law what their end would be. He knew what the end would be. So does every transgressor of God's law. God requires all men to repent. If they do not their end is eternal damnation. If they do they have blessings here and eternal life hereafter. 'What shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God?'"

"What is the gospel, that men ought to obey it? It is good news. It's the glad tidings of salvation through Jesus Christ. This was the angels message to the shepherds on the plains of Bethlehem. When the Israelites were bitten by the fiery serpents in the wilderness it was good news to them that if they looked upon the brazen serpent they would live. When the deluge was about to come upon the earth, it was good news to Noah, that if he would erect and come in to the ark he would be saved. When the City of Jericho was about to fall it was good news to Rahab that if she would place the scarlet line in the window the invaders would spare her home. Never was such good news published as we have in the gospel of God. 'Thou shalt call His name Jesus for he shall save his people from their sins.'"

"Second—What is it to obey the gospel? What was it for Israel to obey? It was simply to look at the brazen serpent. What was it for Noah to obey? Build the ark. What was it for Rahab to obey? Hang the scarlet cord in the window. What is it to obey the gospel? Its believing God's message and obeying it.

"Third—What will the end be of those that obey not the gospel of God? What was the end of those who were not in the ark? A watery grave. What was the end of those who refused to look up to the brazen serpent? They died in the wilderness. What would have been the end had Rahab not placed the scarlet cord in the window? Captured and carried away as a prisoner. What will be the end of those who obey not the gospel of God? Eternally and forever lost, lost, lost. What will your be? Answer that question. Answer, it right. Answer it tonight."

WINS AND EVENS UP AN OLD SCORE

Rushville High School Basketball Team Shows Real Class in Defeating Shelbyville, 48 to 23

Game, However, Proves Snappiest Seen on Floor Here For Some Time—Martin Scores 22

Rushville evened up an old score last night when the high school defeated the Shelbyville high school in one of the snappiest games of basketball ever seen on the Rushville floor. The visitors were never a real menace and the local five succeeded in more than doubling the score, which was 48 to 23 when the final whistle blew.

Shelbyville drew blood first soon after the players were called to their places, but it was not long before Rushville forged ahead and remained in the lead with the exception of a few minutes in the early part of the first half when Shelbyville had a two-point margin. The locals, however, soon tied it up and were off far in front. The score at the end of the first half was 18 to 12.

Rushville has been losing to Shelbyville regularly for several years and the crowd went wild when it became apparent early in the first half that Rushville had the most class. Shelbyville showed some flashes of form, but as a general thing their work was ragged. Their worst difficulty was finding the basket, although the locals did not allow them so very many shots.

Martin and Thorpe proved a combination that was hard to stop. Martin managed to mix in most every play and when he or any other red and black suited man missed a throw, he was nearly always under the basket ready to "ease" the ball in as it slid off the ring. He made many points by his indefatigable following of the ball. The fact that Martin scored 22 points, lacking but two of half of the Rushville score, discloses that he was always in the game.

The game was rough, but Rushville had the better of the argument, because Shelbyville was light, but fast and good fighters. The referee had his eye on Norman Reed and called several fouls on him. Joe Campbell, a little nile of a guard with the visitors, roughed it up in good shape despite his size and was in almost every play, but he in turn received some roughing. Though apparently severely hurt several times, he always came up smiling and was liberally applauded by the crowd. The summary:

Shelbyville (23)	Rushville (48)
Forward	Thorpe
Winkler	Forward
Hack	Oakley, Keating
Center	Martin
Keeling	Guard
Campbell	N. Reed, D. Reed
Guard
Cross	Newhouse
Field goals:	Shelbyville—Winkler, 3; Hack, 1; Keeling, 2; Campbell, 2; Rushville—Thorpe, 7; Martin, 11; Keating, 3; N. Reed, 1.
Foul goals:	Shelbyville—Winkler, 7; Rushville—Thorpe, 4.

TRYING TO GET SUNDAY BALL

Charles Ebbets of Brooklyn Club Has Bill That he Will Present to Legislature.

WEST BROADER THAN EAST

Brooklyn Park Would be Packed Every Sunday if Games Were Allowed.

BY H. C. HAMILTON.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
New York, Jan. 20.—Charles Ebbets, discoverer of the Battle of Long Island and several other excuses for holidays, is still in the ring for Sunday baseball.

Winding up his campaign through the baseball season last summer, when he obtained signatures from thousands who visited his Brooklyn park, he is ready to make an attempt to get a bill through the New York legislature.

Critics in this city are of the opinion that Ebbets is going too far in trying to wedge in an extra playing day, and point to figures, which they say, show that New York, with its six-day schedule, draws more persons than the Western cities with seven-day schedules.

How interesting. When you get down to the root of things and find that New York is six or seven times the size of most western cities, it is pretty easy to see why that it.

Brooklyn isn't hurt by week-end attendance. The big turn-outs on Saturday show what might be accomplished in the borough across the bridge if Sundays were open to baseball.

Out west they have played Sunday baseball for years, and no one makes any objection. Ministers receive and accept with no qualms season passes to minor league parks—and use them. They stay away from the Sunday games, but they don't miss the week-day matinees.

If the west is broad enough to see that a working man hasn't the time to go to a baseball game through the week, it is queer to see some one trying to explain why the east wouldn't like it.

The fans want Sunday baseball. The thousands who signed the petitions at Ebbets field prove that.

TODAY'S HOOSIER ODDITY

Longansport, Ind., Jan. 20.—When contributions to pay for the services of a singing evangelist were not coming in fast enough, the Rev. He told the ushers to call him when the congregations contributed the required amount. He was called within a few minutes.

IVAN OLSON MAY BE A MANAGER

Brooklyn Short Stop Who Kicked Away Many Games May Get Job on Pacific Coast.

VERNON SAID TO BE AFTER HIM

One of Cleverest Players in Country as a Thinker but he Doesn't Use Hands.

BY H. C. HAMILTON.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
New York, Jan. 20.—Ivan Olson, derided shortstop of the Dodgers, who kicked away a game in the world's series, who kicked away many a game in the championship season, is about to get a chance as manager of the Vernon Pacific Coast league club.

Everything has been done to get Olson's release from Brooklyn and he doubtless will be given his opportunity.

Olson, the derided, is one of the cleverest ball players in the country, as a thinker. As a manipulator with his hands he doesn't amount to much. He is a fighter, a never-say-die sort of man, brought up in the rough-and-ready school of the Pacific Coast. There is nothing he wouldn't do, save something decidedly uncivilized, to win a baseball game.

Olson's head is made up of fast decisions, things to be done at the moment when they mean something. To back this up he has several bushels of baseball news, without which there isn't a real good baseball player alive.

He is one of the most dangerous batsmen in the game with a bat, although his batting average never has been seriously large as a big leaguer. He has come very close to touching a big league managerial job several times.

Olson should make good on the coast. He is getting into something he knows about. He won't have to play big league baseball in the field to hold his place. He will only be expected to play winning baseball with his team.

The Vernon management will give him anything he asks in the way of playing talent and will leave it up to him to do the rest. With that sort of backing he should make a great showing.

ENGLAND TO ASK FOR ANOTHER LOAN

Application For Additional Two Hundred Million Expected in 48 Hours.

TOTAL WILL BE $800,000,000

(By United Press.)
New York, Jan. 20.—Great Britain is expected to ask another $250,000,000 loan from the United States through J. P. Morgan and company within the next forty-eight hours. This will make approximately $800,000,000 England has borrowed in the United States since the war began in 1914. This is expected to be a direct government loan backed by British collateral in the United States. The new loan probably will run five years.

No objections is expected by Morgan from the Federal Reserve Board so long as the collateral is kept liquid so it can be realized on by the bankers when the money is needed. Great Britain already has $800,000,000 in loans coming due in the United States between 1918 and 1921.

THE MYSTIC SEVEN

The number runs all through history. It is supposed to have originated from the three sides of the triangle and the four sides of the square; or the observation of the seven planets. However, the fact remains that it appears persistently. The world was created in seven days, every seventh year was Sabbatical, all through the Old and New Testament the figure seven was symbolical, the Dove was sent from the Ark on its second mission just seven days from the first mission. Pharaoh's dream was of the seven lean and seven fat kine. This dream was interpreted by Joseph as seven years of plenty and seven years of famine. Joseph provided for the seven years of famine by storing up in the seven years of plenty. Have you done the same thing? History repeats itself! We are now in the seven years of plenty! Why not save up for a possible famine? I can help you!

CHOICE OF POTATOES MADE FOR THE TABLE

The following suggestions to housewives by home economist specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture are made in regard to the selection of potatoes for table use:

In purchasing potatoes for table purposes, the following points should be kept in mind: First, that smooth potatoes are more desirable than rough ones, because they are more easily prepared, and less loss is involved in the paring. Second, that tubers which have been exposed to light for any considerable period soon acquire a more or less acrid taste; for this reason, newly harvested potatoes, if mature, are preferable for the winter's supply to those which have been kept for any considerable period under unsuitable conditions. Third, that very large potatoes are not especially desirable, partly on account of the greater length of time required to cook

Belts Typify Spring Coats

The late winter and early spring coats bring this new suggestion of belting in the graceful folds of the soft materials. In this model, the belt fastens at the beginning of the huge pockets. The ever popular fur trimmings form the cuffs, edge of the collar and buttons.

White Sales Misnomer Since Lingerie Makes Turn Pink

Things are Beginning to Look Black for Them, too. Since With All the Craze for the New Black Chantilly, No One Would be Afraid to go to Bed in the Dark if it Were in One of Those Exquisite Nighties of That Material—Either Your Table Linen Must be Chastely and Elegantly Plain or Profusely and Lavishly Ornate.

By MARGARET MASON (Written for United Press.)

With mines and U Boats acting up, This much consoleth me: Since I can't go to sea to sail, I'll go to sale to see.

New York, Jan. 20.—If you still have a little money left after Xmas and New Years don't worry, you won't have it after the January white sales.

In nautical tactics they speak of trimming the sails but in shopping tactics it is the sales that trim you. Fortunately however as you note the set of washable satin chemise in the privacy of your boudoir mirror you have the consolation of knowing that they trim you in more ways than one.

January white sales have become as established a custom in all the best shops as well as Furniture sales in August. I don't quite see how they have the face to call them white sales anymore however. The daring cut of some of the newest lingerie has certainly caused a blushing pinkness to prevail and the alleged white sale is no longer pure white or pure or white.

Things are even beginning to look a bit black for the white sale. What with all the present craze for black Chantilly lingerie, nobody would ever be afraid to go to bed in the dark if it were in one of the exquisite new black Chantilly nighties.

They are almost as light as they are dark anyway, if not more so.

A streak of yellow appears often on the purest silk combinations and mauve, cerise and Copenhagen disrupt the pink perfection of many a combination and chemise.

For those that have pink silk yearnings and only pink cotton earnings the pink batiste lingerie this season is really lovely. I saw a bird of a pair of pink wash epepe pajamas dotted and over with blue birds and a pink epepe nightie covered with blue and white butter flies that was a decidedly fly little garment.

The white sales not only offers covering for your back but for your bed and board as well.

The linen sheets hemstitched embroidered, monogrammed and inset with faces are marked down sufficiently to tempt the tightest of tight wads and as for the table linen well no one can resist it.

Either your table linen must be chastely and elegantly plain or it must be profusely and lavishly ornate. You can see that at the very first glimpse at the white sales.

The war time Penelopes in Belgium and France are busy turning out gossamer laces and embroideries while their war lords are away. The results are table cloths, doilies, lunch cloths, napkins and luncheon sets

No longer do the winter sports rob the athletic girl of the opportunity of looking chic as well as being comfortable; instead they give her an excuse for looking her best. This winter particularly, the styles have combined to give the youthful wearer freedom of movement and warmth. The sweaters, sets, and sport garments all give a touch of style while they are particularly adapted for the winter sports. Of course, the most extravagant one may wear a set of furs, including the cap, scarf, muff and coat trimmings.

them uniformly, and partly because they are often very variable in texture. Fourth, a good potato should be firm and crisp when cut, and a thin cross section when held between the eye and the light should show a relatively uniform distribution of starch throughout its whole area, as opposed to a large, translucent, watery, central area which denotes a lack of starch in this portion of the tuber. The even distribution of starch insures greater uniformity in cooking and in texture of the flesh when cooked.

If a lot is not uniform, it is often worth while to sort them and use the large ones with roast meats, or at other times when the oven need not be especially heated, and save the small ones for occasions when quick cooking is more convenient. When the potatoes are very large, or time is pressing, it is often desirable to increase the surface exposed to the heat by cutting them in pieces before cooking, in spite of the fact that this slightly increases the amount of nutrients lost. If they are pared and cut into small cubes or thin slices, they will cook very quickly and may then be creamed, mashed, or served in other ways.

A household novelty is both a nut pick and bottle opener, and can be used to hold an ear of corn while it is being eaten.

CORSETS MORE FATAL THAN WHISKEY, WAR, TOBACCO AND FAMINE.

Indianapolis, Jan. 20.—Mrs. Anna Hoeltke, the woman who will ask the legislature to pass a law abolishing corsets, in Indiana, today declared that "the corset has killed more women and children than whiskey, tobacco, war and famine."

"This is worse than barbarous custom," said she, "of deforming the waists of girls and women as far more injurious than the savage custom of flattening the head of the Chinese custom of binding feet."

"Reports indicate that thousands of deformed babies are born every year as the result of mothers binding their waists with corsets. The government has passed laws prohibiting the sale of habit forming drugs. What is the government going to do to prevent the coming generation from living in a whalebone prison before birth?"

Woman Power as a Means of Discarding Inefficiency

New York, Jan. 20.—Definite plans for the co-ordination of woman's work in peace as well as war will be laid before the Congress of Constructive Patriotism, to be held in Washington, the 25th, 26th and 27th of this month under the auspices of the National Security League.

This will be the beginning of a campaign for the utilization of the woman power of America, as one of the practical means for the elimination of national apathy and inefficiency. In the opinion of many prominent women leaders in civic and social service movement, the organization of the woman power of the nation will form a broad basis of national betterment and service to the country.

The plan to be developed at one of the sessions of the congress will be the result of a deep study of the application of the woman power of America and its relation to preparedness. The woman power of Europe, as developed during the war as a national asset to the warring countries, will form the principal means of showing the need of utilizing the woman power of this country. The plan not only involves the use of this power for war, but its utilization and development as essential in creating a national spirit in time of peace.

Miss Grace Parker, who under the direction of Miss Anne Morgan, Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt and other prominent women, recently made a study of woman conditions abroad, today issued the following statement on the utilization of the woman power of this nation:

"Why should women take an active part in the 'Preparedness Movement' in this country? Just what part should women be expected to take? Are we not disturbing ourselves unnecessarily with all this

'Preparedness' talk? It is not reasonable to suppose that women in America will rise to the situation in time of calamity as the women of Europe have done?—and many similar questions are voiced every day by groups of women and by individuals. Back across the waters from Europe comes the answer to these questions. The great question is—are women in this country ready to benefit by the sorrows, the sufferings, the sacrifices of the women in Europe who a little over two years ago would have answered 'preparedness' suggestions with questioning—and with doubt, just as is being done in this country today? Are we ready and willing to take advantage of the greatest opportunity which will ever come to a nation—an opportunity to study the elements which are at work in warstricken Europe, and evolve from such a study a program of 'Preparedness' which shall mean the development of woman's resources, women's power, not only for the benefit of the individual, but for the benefit and protection of the corporate life of the nation and for humanity?"

"At the Congress of Constructive Patriotism to be held under the auspices of the National Security League in Washington, January 25th, 26th and 27th, a program of constructive work for women of America, based upon the magnificent work which is being done by the women in Europe will be presented. A woman's session will be held at which prominent women from all parts of the country, as well as representatives of national women's organizations and women's college will be present to take definite action on this woman's program, and to take steps towards co-ordinating the Woman Power of America."

that are fairly like in their fragile beauties. Over colored cloths of gleaming satin these lace and embroidery work of art show to advantage at luncheons, and dinners, carrying out a set color scheme. Just to carry the drolling up of the festal board a step further, centerpieces of gold or silver gauze heavily embroidered in gold or silver threads are a brand new conceit.

For more conservative and dignified taste the plain damask cloths bordered in a broad satin stripe and monogrammed in two places with a square monogram with plain satin stripe bordered monogrammed napkins to match cannot be improved upon. Of course an elaborate lace and embroidery piece is used in the center.

A very original and artistic housewife I knew dressed her dining table up for breakfasts, home dinners and informal luncheons in natural colored crash cloths hemstitched and marked in Chinese monograms of blue with napkins done the same. With these distinctive cloths she uses a service of the Blue and White Chinese Canton china.

Naturally she has them made to order or makes them herself and the white sales are showing wonderful bargains in linen crash and natural linen by the yard.

Certainly with its smashing prices and crash by the yard it is no wonder every female these days hears and heeds the call of the white sale.

"BLACK WEDDING" TODAY IS FIRST OF ITS KIND ON RECORD

New York, Jan. 20.—Ora One Powder Puff Prince and designer of women's garb, and Eleanor Klinger, fashion model, were married at St. Vincent de Paul's here today. Theirs was the first "black wedding" on record.

Except for the white principals, the affair was as black as the ace of spades. Wedding traditions were hauled out in a bunch and smashed to pieces. The bride was clad in jet black from her hair and earrings to her toes. The groom wore a black suit, black silk shirt, black linen collar and black gloves.

Later the wedding breakfast at the bride's home was served by black waiters in black. The menu consisted of blackberry cocktails, black bass, black bread, black coffee. It seemed like everything black in the world was there but despair.

"Black," said the bridegroom, "is the ideal color for weddings. As mourning it is losing its significance. No one wears mourning any more. And black is cheaper and more serviceable than any other color."

The couple departed on the Black Diamond express for a honeymoon tour through the principal cities of the west. They said they would give those places a chance to look them over.

Cartoonist and Bride Leave for Treasure Island

Chicago, Jan. 20.—John T. McCutcheon, cartoonist, war correspondent and soldier of fortune, who was married here today to Miss Evelyn Shaw, has always had a hankering to live in the haunts of pirates and buried gold. That left him a choice between New York City and Treasure Island. He took the island.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. McCutcheon started on their trip to the land he has dreamed of ever since he sailed his boyhood brig under the skull and crossbones over the hills and dales of Indiana.

McCutcheon recently bought Salt Cay, the island of the Bahama group, perhaps better known as "Treasure Island." This romantic little splotch of land stands up from the sea five miles from Nassau, New Providence, and is in the midst of British territory.

A few drops of ammonia in a cupful of warm water, applied carefully, will remove spots from paintings and chromos.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Broom Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburget Brunt Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a cup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Oil

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 25 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!

GIVES RENTER CHANCE TO BUY

Farm Loan Act Makes it Easy For Tenant to Purchase Land With Low Rate of Interest.

PAYMENTS SAME AS RENT

Two Mortgages Would be Given and Amounts Paid Off in Ten Equal Installments.

BY FRANK R. WILSON.
Of the Federal Farm Loan Bureau.
(Written for United Press.)

Washington, Jan. 20.—The question has been frequently asked, "How can a renter who has not saved 50 per cent of the purchase price of land make use of the Federal Farm Loan Act to get land of his own?"

The answer is, by means of a first mortgage given under the Farm Loan Act for 50 per cent of the purchase price—provided this does not exceed 50 per cent of the appraised value—and a second mortgage given to the former owner of the land or to a bank or private money lender, for the balance.

It must be borne in mind that the amount which can be borrowed under the Farm Loan Act is limited to 50 per cent of the appraised value of the land, and this is written on the assumption that the tenant will not pay more for his land than it is actually worth, or, in other words, its appraised value as contemplated under the Farm Loan Act.

To furnish a concrete example: Suppose John Smith, a renter, wants to buy 100 acres of land, valued at $50 an acre. The total purchase price would be $5,000, but John Smith has not the money to buy it. Under the Farm Loan Act, Smith would be entitled to borrow $2500 of the appraised value, if this appraised value should be the same as the purchase price. This would leave $2500 to be handled by a second mortgage. The amount borrowed under the Farm Loan Act could be paid to the original owner of the land and a second mortgage executed for the difference.

The original owner would thus get a satisfactory payment down, and if he had confidence in the purchaser, he would probably be willing to accept a second mortgage for the balance, divided into ten annual payments.

Here is the way it would figure out:

The first mortgage of $2500 given under the Farm Loan Act would draw, let us say, 5 1/2 per cent interest and would be paid off on the installment plan through a period of forty years by making annual payments of $155.95.

Now let us say that the second mortgage would draw 6 per cent and could be arranged so as to be retired in ten years. The interest on this $2500 mortgage at 6 per cent would be $150 the first year and one-tenth of the $2500 would be $250.

Adding the interest and the one-tenth annual payment would mean a payment of $400 on the second mortgage the first year. The second year payment would be $385 and the following payments through the ten years to retire the second mortgage, both principal and interest, would be $370, $355, $340, $325, $310, $295, $280 and $265.

On top of all these annual payments would be the $155.95 interest and amortization payments on the first mortgage to the Federal Land Bank so that the total payments, interest and principal, on the two mortgages would begin at $555.95 and dwindle down to $420.95 the tenth year and after that only $155.95 each year.

If the terms of the second mortgage could be arranged for longer than ten years the required annual payments would be correspondingly reduced.

These payments are no greater than the average tenant pays for rent. The first year payment on both of these mortgages would amount to approximately $5.50 an acre. These would gradually reduce until the tenth year he would be paying $4.20 an acre and each year after that he would be paying only $1.55 per acre per year. Instead of being paid as rental this money is applied on the purchase price of the land.

The interest rates quoted in this instance are suggestions only and are not to be taken as an official statement of what rates prevail under the Farm Loan Act.

A Sharpening of Swords, Instead of Peace,

a stiffening of the resolve to fight on to victory or the bitter end, would seem to be the chief result of President Wilson's efforts to hasten the end of the war in Europe.

This conclusion is reached after reading the Entente Allies' reply to President Wilson's proposal for peace negotiations, altho in some quarters it may be felt that there is still a loophole for a continuance of peace discussion. Lloyd-George, the British Premier, supplements the stiffness of the Allies' answer by saying in his Guildhall speech that "The Allies are still convinced that even war is better than peace at the price of Prussian domination over Europe," and that before anyone can "attempt to rebuild the temple of peace, they must see that the foundations are solid."

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for January 20th, the leading article deals with the Entente Allies' response to President Wilson's request to the warring Powers, and in the form of quotations from statesmen and leading newspapers gives an all-sided presentation of public opinion on the subject.

"The Digest" a First Aid to the Doubtful

The world is now going through a period of momentous changes under conditions that tend almost invariably to make every man and woman a partizan on one side or the other in the great struggle being grimly fought out between autocratic and democratic ideals. With the destiny of our whole social and governmental system hanging in the balance we are so deafened by the clamor of the advocates of these two conflicting parties that we find it hard to know which to follow, or what are the actual rights and wrongs of the questions involved — Here THE LITERARY DIGEST comes to our aid with its cool and sane discussions of these world-shaking events along absolutely impartial lines, quoting from all sorts of periodicals without a shadow of bias. Reading it, we are enabled to recover our bearings, to judge values accurately, to rise above personal and political view-points, and to know things as they are.

CAR OWNERS!
You are interested in our announcement of the arrival of

The machine that enables us to locate starting and lighting trouble easily and thereby saves you money.
We do not use the guesswork way—

But we use AMBU The scientific way:

which means we save you from 10 to 20 hours in repair bills when you have trouble. You can save expense and trouble by having your car tested each month. Troubles not apparent will be found and eliminated before great damage is done.
BUT WE DO MORE THAN THAT.
By our monthly inspection service, we catch and stop non-apparent troubles before great damage is done.
This scientific service is possible because we have "inside information" about the miniature electric plant on your car—a complete knowledge of its construction—wiring diagrams showing every wire on your car, and AMBU, the systematic tester and trouble finder.
This is another example of our desire to secure for the car owner, the newest and most valuable service-inventions in the electric engineering field.

PUBLIC HAS NO USE FOR SLACKER
Civilian in England is Generally Scorned Regardless of His Excuses
OPINION IS AGAINST HIM
Street Car Conductor Tackles Wrong Man When he Jumps New Yorker About Going to War
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
By J. W. PEGLER
London, Jan. 16.—(By Mail)—
"Why aren't you in the Army?"
Next to calling a man a German, that is the favorite insult, amounting to "fighting words," now in use in London. The civilian hasn't much chance of a come-back except with his fists so if he retorts at all it is usually with his right.
The waiter with a little gold or silver strip on his sleeve, meaning that he has been shot or gassed, throws a sneering glance at the civilian diner. The soup is cold and diner says so.
"The soup isn't cold in the Army," is the waiter's come-back. "Why aren't you there?"
As the Conscription Act exempts nobody without reason, the civilian has a good legal right to be a civilian. But he can't go into details about his tribunal hearing so he scrapes the waiter's head with a ketchup-bottle.
But the civilian usually gets the worst of it regardless of whether he succeeds in punishing his tormentor. Public opinion just naturally drifts against him.
It is the same on the street if he accidentally bumps another pedestrian. He may apologize but if resentment isn't appeased the injured party reels off the crowning insult.
Americans generally escape because their "accent" excludes them from English army consideration. But once in a while someone makes a mistake as a bus conductor did with a New York chauffeur.
"Why aren't you in the Army?" demanded the conny, after a trivial argument.
The New Yorker's reply was made to order.
"Say-ay, listen, Cockney," he said contemptuously. "My army has licked yours twice and if they have to do it again I'll be with 'em."

UNPOPULAR STATE PESTS.

BY R. E. SNOODGRASS.
(Assistant State Entomologist)
(Written for United Press.)
The groundhog is in his hole, the frog is at the bottom of the pond, the birds have gone to Florida—but where is the apple worm? Why, out in the orchard, snugly tucked away in a little house of silk constructed by himself beneath some piece of loosened bark, in a crevice of the fence or perhaps in a crack about the packing shed. There he stays all winter digesting his summer meal, probably enjoying the simple life, although he ate enough green apple in his youth to have the colic for the rest of his days.
In the autumn, when the apples fall to the ground that luxurious life of feeding ends and the worms must crawl out to seek protection from the coming cold winter elsewhere. Having selected a suitable retreat, each spins about itself a thick cocoon of silk and oval case with neither doors nor windows and too short even to allow the worm to stretch out at full length. From this prison, the worm will never again emerge as a worm. In early spring each cuts a hole in the front of its cell in anticipation; it changes to a chrysalis, wherein takes place that reconstruction which transforms the worm into a moth. After about a month, the chrysalis becomes active wriggles itself partly out of its front door and remains projecting there.
Then the skin splits over its forward end and the moth comes out—the dreaded codling moth, the females of which will lay the eggs from which will hatch the new spring brood of apple worms.
After they hatch is the time to kill them with a spray of arsenate of lead.

Hot Water for Sick Headaches

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headache of any kind, is caused by auto-intoxication—which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood, through the lymph ducts, excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilide, aspirin or the bromides which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drunk before breakfast for awhile, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache but will cleanse and purify the entire alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar, and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour, acid stomach, begin the phosphate hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

Results are quick and it is claimed that those who continue to flush out the stomach, liver and bowels every morning never have any headache or know a miserable moment.

BARTLETT IS GETTING READY

His Polar Expedition Will be Ready to Sail During Summer of 1918—Strictly Scientific

TO STUDY NATURAL FORCES

Will be Equipped With Two Scout Monoplanes For Taking of Observations.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Equipped for a scientific study of the Polar regions, 800,000 square miles of which never have been sailed or trod by man, the Bartlett Polar expedition, the first purely scientific expedition to enter the far north, will sail from the United States during the summer of 1918.

Scientific research, rather than discovery, will be our first object.

I will take but ten men into the Polar belt with me—including ship's crew, mechanics, and scientists. Each will be a man of trial calibre, for once set out, there will be no return ticket to the civilized world, at least under 8 to 5 years. Each man must be capable of supreme endurance and versatility.

Two or three scout-type monoplanes, an innovation in polar expeditions, will be included in our equipment to supplement the customary dogs and sledges.

These will be used for observation purposes from the base of operations, always the ship, and might prove invaluable in returning to civilization should the expedition meet with disaster.

How the natural forces operate at the Pole; whether the perpetually moving ice-floes of the Arctic sea, swirl in a continuous circle about the Pole; whether their movement is directed by a constant east wind—so frequently noted in former expeditions—or whether by ocean currents; just what atmospheric conditions prevail—these are some of the questions we hope to be able to answer before the trip is concluded. A careful study of the fauna life on the ocean-floor of the Arctic, with comparisons with the animal-culue existence of other waters, will also form a part of the research work. Charting of new lands—if such exist and soundings of the Arctic ocean in various latitudes are further objectives. Admiral Peary, making deep soundings at the Pole, probed for 9,000 feet—nearly two miles—without finding a bottom.

Our ship, which we hope soon to have under construction, will be built of toughest live-oak, with special constructive features to resist the terrific impact with ice-floes naturally to be expected on such a trip. It will be small, to permit of quick moving, which is often imperative to escape being caught and crushed like an egg-shell between rapidly approaching ice fields. If caught in such a en-de-sac, the only recourse is blasting out a "berth" with dynamite, or abandoning the vessel to her fate.

The ability to sense danger from approaching ice, and to act swiftly and decisively, is one of the most necessary requirements of arctic explorers.

The ship will carry a most complete equipment of scientific instruments—many probably supplied by the U. S. Coast and Geodeic Survey. Tinned foods of all kinds, tea, coffee and chocolate, will be carried to provide a varied diet for the long period in which we shall be distinctly out of the pale of the menu card and the warm bath. Our principal food, however, will consist of seal, walrus and polar-bear steaks. We can, at some convenient place in the arctic, kill several thousand of these and pile them up on the ice, covered with snow, as our food reserve. They will keep, of course, indefinitely.

The average winter temperature we will encounter will be 35 or 40 degrees below zero, this slightly moderating in the brief summer.

Starting out from some port on the Pacific, probably Seattle, in July, we will pass through Bering Strait and proceed north around Alaska. Arriving at some point off the American coast in September, we will "set" the ship in the rapidly forming ice-fields, and resign ourselves to a continuous drift with the ice, wherever it may lead us.

We expect to come out at some

Once Wealthy And Later Poor Boy Becomes Partner Of Morgan Today

BY GEORGE MARTIN.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Jan. 20.—A young man walked into the House of Morgan at the corner of Wall and Broad streets here today and sat down at the desk he had had his eye on for twenty years.

The young man was Thomas Cochran of St. Paul, Minnesota, who, born among riches and later forced into poverty, has struggled back up the ladder to the point of success where J. P. Morgan invited him to become his twelfth business partner. Cochran officially assumed this enviable position in the world of finance today.

Cochran was confronted twenty years ago with the alternative of working his way through his last year at Yale, or quitting. His father's death and the loss of the family fortune put it up to the young man from St. Paul.

Young Cochran worked his way through the last year. He forewent society, in which he had played a large part; also football, despite the fact that he was a member of the Yale team, likewise Skull & Bores, the exclusive fraternity to which he had been elected. He took work as a tutor. He took other work too and when he graduated he had the habit.

Ten years ago Cochran was working for a real estate company here for wages that almost any Wall Street clerk would curl his lip at. He had "stuck" there seven years at the same salary, but he knew what he was about. He knew what he had and he was content to wait for the psychological moment to get into the big play.

Then Henry P. Davison, a partner of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, "discovered" Cochran and invited him to help reorganize the Astor Trust Company. Cochran's advance since then has been rapid, but he has stood the test and no flaws have developed.

The real estate clerk of ten years ago today is not only a Morgan partner, but also a director of the Astor Trust Company, Knox Hat Company, Submarine Corporation, the Kennecott Copper Company, the Hecla Iron Works, the United Drygoods Company, the Associated Merchants Company, Lord & Taylor, and the American Piano company.

point between Spitsbergen and Greenland. In thus drifting with the ice, we will be able to note its trend and just what forces are operating in its directions. Whether it is moved principally by the water currents beneath, or is driven by a constant wind, is yet to be determined. Numbers of important scientific theories may be either blasted or substantiated through these observations.

Frequent, hourly if possible, soundings will be taken of the sea bottom, and specimens of the fauna from the sea-floor collected. The theory that at some former age, the earth's equator was located at what is now the Pole and changed to its present position by a "flip-flop" of the earth, may be somewhat cleared up by a study of dead fauna life of the Arctic ocean, if any can be obtained.

The expedition will include some distinguished meteorologist, in order that an intensive study of the atmospheric laws obtaining at the pole, may be made in the interest of science, and navigation.

18 YEARS OF LIVER TROUBLE

Finally Relieved by the Old Reliable Thedford's Black-Draught.

Traverse City, Mich.—Mrs. J. W. Edwards, of this town, says: "I suffered for about 18 years with liver trouble, and doctored with many different remedies. At last, I was told that an operation was the only thing that would help me, but I heard of Thedford's Black-Draught, and took six 25-cent packages and it cured me. I can recommend it to all who suffer from liver troubles."

I have influenced several of my neighbors to take Black-Draught Liver Medicine, and I give it to my grandchildren.

I can safely say that I owe my life to Black-Draught, as it put me on my feet after everything else had failed. You know that you can depend upon Black-Draught Liver Medicine for quick and permanent relief in all disorders of the liver, stomach and bowels, such as indigestion, constipation, biliousness, headache, sour stomach, tired feeling, and many other common ailments, because, in the past 75 years, it has helped so many thousands of people, whose troubles were similar to these.

Safe, gentle in action, and without bad after-effects, Black-Draught is sure to benefit both young and old. Sold everywhere. 25c a package. Costs only one cent a dose. NCB4

A DENTISTS FORMULA

VEGETABLE CALOMEL

Vegetable calomel, extract of the root of the old-fashioned may-apple plant, does not salivate. As a liver stimulant, it's great. It's a perfect substitute for ordinary calomel (mercury); in fact, it's better, because its action is gentle instead of severe and irritating—and it leaves no mean, disagreeable after-effects. Physicians recognize this and prescribe may-apple root (podophyllin, they call it) daily.

Combined with four other standard, all-vegetable remedies, may-apple root may now be had at most any druggist's in convenient sugar-coated tablet form by asking for Santanel Laxatives. If you forget the name, ask for the box that has the picture of the soldier on it.

These tablets are small, easy to take and are really wonderful little performers.

They quickly clean out the poisons that are causing your headache, constipation, sour stomach, biliousness, dizzy spells, bad breath and coated tongue.

They are mild. They never gripe. And they are a bowel tonic as well as a cleanser and liver regulator. A 10c box should last one several weeks. A Physician's trial package (4 doses) will be mailed you free if you write mentioning this advertisement. The Santanel Remedies Co., 802 Main Ave., Covington, Ky.

IN SIXTY YEARS

When Wilson is Inaugurated For Second Time March 5 he Will
be Over 60 Years.

ROOSEVELT THE YOUNGEST

(By United Press.)
Washington, Jan. 20.—President Wilson is the oldest Executive to preside over the destinies of the United States for the last 60 years.

When he is inaugurated for the second time March 5 he will be sixty years old, a span of years that no president has crossed since the inauguration of Buchanan in 1857.

Incidentally the President is one of the six oldest Executive ever in the White House. Previous to 1861 the men chosen to hold the reins of government generally reached a late period in life before their election.
John Adams was 61 when inaugurated in 1797, Jackson also was 61 when first inaugurated in 1829. Benjamin Harrison was the oldest man ever chosen for the Presidency, being 68 at the time of his inauguration in 1841. Taylor was 64 and Buchanan 65, respectively, when they were inaugurated respectively.

Aside from these all Presidents have been younger than Woodrow Wilson when entering the White House. This has been particularly noticeable in the last fifty years when all Executives have been comparatively young. Theodore Roosevelt was the youngest President ever inaugurated in this country, being but 42 when he took office.

The Waste Basket.

Dear Reader—Yesterday we wrote in this box telling you why and how you should help stop the paper famine in the United States by saving rags and waste paper.

You can sell them to the junk man.

Save clean white cotton or linen rags and clean unbleached cotton and linen rags.
Scraps and small pieces are as good as big ones. Shirts, table damasks, toweling, cotton and linen dress goods are fine. Also soiled white rags, both new and used and colored cloths that are bleachable, but keep blacks, reds, maroons and dark browns separate from this pile. In fact, keep all these classifications separated.

Aside from this, put all other rags, too poor in quality for any of those classifications, in a pile by themselves.

Don't put in any of these bundles rags that are excessively greasy or have rubber in them. Nor any corsets, rubber cloths of any kind, or suspender. Put clean black rags in a separate pile. This includes socks. Woolen rags of all kinds are valuable. Tomorrow we'll tell about paper.

WHAT-YOU-MAY COLUMN

Legs

Legs are convenient attachments used by human beings for climbing streets cars, elevators, automobiles and other modes of transportation.
At other times we just let them dangle
from our waistlines.

Legs originally were designed in pairs, for human beings to get around on. But we've outgrown them.
The only really useful leg today is the leg of ham or the leg of mutton.

Legs still constitute the only real excuse for burlesque shows, of course; and they're an aid in kicking cats and unwelcome suitors. But as things to walk on, we keep them only for emergencies.

This applies only to human beings.
With horses, cows, pigs and like animals it's different. They still have use for a leg on each corner.

There is only one valid argument in favor of legs. If we didn't have them, what would we do with our feet?

or both installments will become delinquent and subject to a penalty.

The Second Installment must be paid on or before the FIRST MONDAY IN NOVEMBER, 1917.
No tax receipts will be held out until taxes are paid in full.

Extracts From the Statutes of Indiana.

That each person or taxpayer charged with taxes on a duplicate in the hands of a County Treasurer may pay the full amount of such taxes on or before the first Monday in May, or may at his option, pay one-half thereof on or before the first Monday in May, and the remaining half on or before the first Monday in November in the manner prescribed by law. All road taxes to be added to the first installment.
When the first installment is not paid prior to the first Monday in May, the taxes for the whole year become delinquent.
The Treasurer will not be responsible for the penalty and charges on Delinquent Taxes resulting from any omission of the person paying to state definitely on what property, in whose name and in what township or corporation it was assessed.
Persons owing Delinquent Taxes should pay them at once. The late law is of such character that there is no option left the Treasurer but to enforce the collection of delinquent taxes, however much he may regret to collect the same, by sale of property.
The owner of the property on the first day of March in any year, shall be liable for the taxes, penalties, interests, and costs to the owners thereof, in such county, and no partial payment of such taxes, penalties, interests or costs shall discharge or release any part or portion of such property until the whole be paid; which lien shall in no wise be affected or destroyed by any sale or transfer of any such personal property.
—Sec. 644, R. S.

The Treasurer has no option in rebating the penalty on taxes allowed to go delinquent. Taxpayers are particularly notified that all Road Tax is due and payable with the first installment. No County Orders will be paid to persons owing delinquent taxes and all parties are warned against buying the same.
The Annual Sale of Delinquent Lands and Lots will take place on the Second Monday in February, 1917.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION

TAXPAYERS SHOULD EXAMINE THEIR RECEIPTS before leaving the Treasurer's Office, and see that they are correct. Those who have lands or other property in more than one township, must see that they have a receipt for all.
J. O. WILLIAMS,
Treasurer of Rush County.

AUDITOR'S SPECIAL NOTICE

Parties having School Fund Loans on which interest is delinquent will please give the payment of said interest their attention before March 1st, as the law requires the prompt collection of said interest.
